Oregon Voters Pick between Dem Candidates

Most Predictions Say Kennedy To Win 17 More Delegates

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Oregon ballots today in a presidential primary fired up by a battle between a favorite son and a hard-campaigning candidate for the Democratic presidential bid.

The election pitted Sen. Wayne Morse, who has served Oregon in Washington since 1944, against Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, victor in all six other primaries he entered this year.

Most people who did any predicting at all picked Kennedy to sweep up 17 more national convention votes in the last major primary contest of 1960.

Kennedy, out hustling at supermarkets, factories and street corners all day Thursday, allowed himself finally to concede he was "very much encouraged." Whether for buildup purposes or not, he previously had taken the line that Morse ought to win in his own state.

The two candidates closed their campaign with speeches and television appearances which pointed up the big debate between the two.

Morse declared Kennedy had no business coming into his state against a favorite son. He warned that a Kennedy victory would wreck the Democratic party here for years to come.

Kennedy told his listeners there was no sense in handing Oregon's vote at the Los Angeles convention to someone not running for the nomination. He noted that only one president (Warren G. Harding) has been elected in this century who didn't enter the Oregon primary.

Kennedy estimated his Oregon campaign cost about $50,000. Morse, who said he himself was spending less than $7,500, has accused the New England senator of spending "unconscionable" amounts of money to "buy the White House."

There was nothing to stop Democrats from voting for three other senators, or writing in any other preference. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, and Stuart Symington of Missouri also were on the ballot.

Only Morse and Kennedy campaigned, however. After Humphrey's withdrawal from the presidential nomination race following the West Virginia primary, Humphrey headquarters here urged Democrats to write his name for vice president.

Election officials figured on a turnout somewhere around 50 percent of the 786,335 registration.

Rain was forecast for much of the state during the 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. (Pacific Standard Time) polling period (11 a. m. to 11 p. m. Eastern Standard Time).

Richard M. Nixon had the Republican presidential ticket all to himself. His state chairman, Wendell Wyatt of Astoria, urged Republicans to roll up a substantial vote for the vice president.

Youth Suffers Bump on Head

A young passenger was slightly injured in a two-car collision in Ashville at 4:20 p. m. yesterday.

Suffering a bump on the forehead was Terrence Wylie, 5. He was a passenger in a car driven by his father, John W. Wylie, 41, Ashville.

The other auto was operated by James L. Franks, 17, Ashville.

Deputy Sheriff Homer Adams said the cars collided as Franks backed from a lot at Berry's service station.

Deputy Adams said both cars were slightly damaged.

Ike Returning From Paris Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower returns from the summit today empty-handed, but to a rousing welcome from the folks back home.

Ahead lies the task of finding new solutions to international problems which may become even more urgent because of the stormy collapse of the Paris meeting.

The nation had a chance to join by television in the welcome to Eisenhower as the three national TV networks covered his arrival at nearby Andrews Air Force Base. Microphones were ready for whatever speech he cared to make.

In Portugal Thursday, on a goodwill stopover en route home, Eisenhower called for belt-tightening and a chins-up attitude. He acknowledged, too, that "perhaps leaders here and there may make mistakes."

Greetings from Mrs. Eisenhower, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, members of the cabinet and of the diplomatic corps, and congressmen from both parties awaited Eisenhower at the airport.

Thousands of school children and office workers planned to turn out along the route of his 15-mile drive to the White House.

Eisenhower's homecoming contrasted strangely with his departure last Saturday. Then only a handful of well-wishers attended the takeoff of his orange-and-silver jet plane for the East-West summit meeting at Paris.

White House officials said today's welcome demonstration was not by command, but just grew by popular demand.

The President flew homeward after a 24-hour visit to Lisbon on his way back from the disastrous summit conference in Paris.

Eisenhower, in a brief farewell speech at Portela Airport, said his talks with Portuguese President Americo Tomaz and Premier Antonio Oliveira Salazar, "have once again affirmed the spirit of friendship and good will that has always characterized the relations between Portugal and the United States."

"All of us," the President declared, "realize that we are united in a common cause and that each of us, in his own way, shares a part of the responsibility of striving for a peaceful and better world."

Washington readied a rousing welcome for the President.

Eisenhower is to report to the nation on television and radio, probably early next week, about his unsuccessful efforts in Paris to sit down and talk things over with Khrushchev.

The summit conference never got under way because the President refused to knuckle under to the Soviet Premier's demand that Eisenhower apologize for American spy flights over Soviet territory and punish those responsible.

A crowd of about 2,000 at Lisbon's Portela Airport cheered Eisenhower as he warmly shook hands with President Tomaz.

A smile lit up the President's face and he waved his grey hat. Then he climbed the stairs to his big jet plane, waved with his arms outstretched, and turned to enter the plane.

Baccalaureate Services Are Sunday for 13 Area Schools

A total of 14 Pickaway County and area high school Baccalaureate services will be held at various hours Sunday for the 1960 graduating classes.

The 10 county high schools, along with the schools of Circleville, K'ston, Stoutsville and Laurelville, will hold their religious services in various churches and school auditoriums.

Baccalaureate services are preliminary religious ceremonies to high school commencement exercises which will graduate 408 county and area seniors into the world of today.

The services stress the importance of religious belief and activity in the seniors' lives as they enter a new life of responsibility.

Commencement exercises start Sunday with Kingston. Monday and Tuesday will find the majority of commencements held with the final two — Ashville and Circleville — on Friday.

The following is a rundown of

CIRCLEVILLE

Baccalaureate services for 114 Circleville High School graduating seniors will be at 8 p. m. Sunday in Trinity Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Paul Tegardin will play the prelude. The Processional, "Holy, Holy, Holy," will follow. The church choir will sing an anthem entitled "Oh Splendor of God's Glory Bright."

Another hymn will follow, "Faith of Our Fathers." The Rev. Carl G. Zehner will deliver the Baccalaureate address entitled "At the Edge of Mystery" based on John 3:2.

The choir will sing an anthem "God My King." The Recessional, "Onward Christian Soldiers," will conclude services.

Khrushchev Seen Avoiding Explosion

BERLIN (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev's mission in East Berlin appears to be to warn its Communist rulers to be careful. The Soviet Premier seems far from anxious for an explosion over West Berlin in the near future.

When Khrushchev blew up the four-power summit meeting in Paris before it could get started, his thunder made the storm seem close at hand. In East Berlin Thursday, it sounded more like an ominous rumble well beyond the horizon.

Khrushchev in a subdued mood — as he surely was Thursday — can be just as baffling as Khrushchev roaring insults and threatening mayhem. But there were a few hints dropped.

Little by little the world outside the Communist leadership may get an idea of the factors behind the fantastic performance of the Communist boss in Paris, where he showered insults on the President of the United States and shook a pudgy fist under the nose of Washington.

The first of the clues seemed to appear Thursday. First, a mass meeting of a quarter million East Berliners to hear the Communist chief was called off. That could not have been done on the initiative of the East German Communists. The orders would have to come from their Soviet superiors.

Second, the East Germans deliberately let it be known, while Khrushchev was on his way from Paris, that he could not be expected to sign a peace treaty with the satellite East German Communist regime on this trip.

Advance advertising in Paris had it that Khrushchev would make an important announcement in East Berlin. The notion may have got the East German Communist leadership overexcited about prospects for moving in soon on West Berlin.

But in his first day in East Berlin, Khrushchev, while saying substantially what he did in Paris, said it far less violently. In fact he read it, at the airport in a monotone, as if it were a necessary chore. His second speech this afternoon was arranged in a hall holding only 5,000, and hardly a stage for a Khrushchev circus.

But in what Khrushchev said on his arrival there was a slight shift in emphasis. He informed the East German Communists of a "new situation" because of the Paris summit blowup.

The implication was that the question of West Berlin, an isolated island of 2,200,000 people 110 miles inside Communist-ruled territory, cannot be settled at a conference table. That may have been one of the several reasons why Khrushchev felt impelled to wreck the summit meeting.

Had Khrushchev negotiated, he would have met a stone wall of opposition to his proposals to turn West Berlin into an international city and to have all powers involved in the war against Nazi Germany sign peace treaties with Communist East Germany, as well as with West Germany. That would have given the East German Communists a claim on West Berlin.

On that issue, at least, Khrushchev would have come from a Paris showdown empty-handed. And he had committed himself to the statement that if the Western allies would not go along with his proposals, the Communists would proceed on their own. However, there has been no showdown on the issue, and Khrushchev, while speaking piously of the possibility of a new summit meeting many months from now, can safely drag his feet on the German questions.

Girl, 16, Loses Leg to Big Shark

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP)—A huge shark attacked a 16-year-old girl off Hidden Beach Thursday and mangled her left leg so severely it had to be amputated below the knee.

Suzanna Marie Theriot was swimming 150 feet offshore when the shark struck.

Her condition was described today as serious but improving.

The attack was another in a series along the California coast that authorities blame on a warming trend of the waters and the movement of warm water fish northward.

Two Californians have been killed in the past year, one off San Francisco, the other off La Jolla, near San Diego.

Nose Cone Dropped Into Indian Ocean In Only 52½ Minutes

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A U.S. Atlas missile streaked 9,000 miles in 52½ minutes today in a record-smashing flight past the tip of Africa to a chosen target area in the southern Indian Ocean.

Satisfaction with the results was apparent in an Air Force announcement that first reports indicated "all test objectives were achieved."

The list of objectives included the 9,000-mile flight, far exceeding any previously recorded missile shot, and impact in a target area small enough to demonstrate the accuracy required for military effectiveness.

It was the longest surface-to-surface missile flight on record, surpassing the 7,700 miles claimed by the Russians for a rocket they launched into the Central Pacific last Jan. 20. The longest previous Atlas flight was 6,325 miles.

The mighty Atlas powered into the sky from this missile test center at 10 a. m. EST. An hour later the Air Force reported the rocket successfully dropped its tactical-type nose cone in the intended impact area 1,000 miles southeast of Capetown, South Africa, and about 500 miles northeast of the British-owned Prince Edward Islands.

An official said the Atlas was aimed at a point exactly 9,000 miles from Cape Canaveral.

An announcement said, "Preliminary telemetry data indicates that all test objectives were achieved."

The missile was geared to: Reach a peak altitude of more than 1,000 miles and a top speed of about 17,000 miles an hour, just about the height-speed combination that might send it off into orbit.

Pass between the coast of Brazil and Ascension Island, the last tracking station on the Atlantic missile range.

14 Arrested In Dayton Labor Dispute

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Fourteen persons were arrested Thursday as the aftermath of a free-for-all battle at a strikebound plant here. A deputy sheriff and a picket were injured in the fight.

The fight broke out at the strikebound Jalousies of Ohio Co., just east of the city, when the day shift quit work at 5 p. m.

Pickets, workers hired by the firm during the strike, and deputies tangled.

James Eugene Schooler, 26, of Dayton, the injured picket, was treated for a head injury. Then he was charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

A deputy was hit in the eye with an egg shell loaded with red paint. Following the fist-swinging ruction, Jesse Phillips, the company president, telegraphed Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, charging "the law enforcement has broken down in this (Montgomery) county." He said he would meet today with a governor's representative to discuss the possibility of state aid in keeping order.

Sheriff Bernard L. Keiter said there was a strong possibility he would ask Dayton city police to help maintain order at the plant. The Jalousie firm has been struck since Monday by 150 members of Local 528 of the Sheet Metal Workers. Contract negotiations broke off Saturday. Both company and union officials said the dispute is over a 2-cents-an-hour wage increase. Union employees now have a minimum starting wage of $1.10 an hour with a boost after six months to $1.29.

Community Fund Goal Is $32,300

A goal of $32,300 was set for the 1960 campaign of the Pickaway County Community Fund last night.

The Board of Trustees of the community fund approved that figure as a goal and added a new agency to the fund — The Well-Child Clinic.

That makes six agencies which derive their funds from the Pickaway County Community Fund. The other five agencies, re-approved for another year are, Red Cross, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Youth Canteen.

The trustees also approved budgets for the various agencies last night.

They are Red Cross, $14,795; Salvation Army $3,500; Boy Scouts, $4,500; Girl Scouts, $3,200; Youth Canteen, $4,050, and Well-Child Clinic, $1,500.

ADMINISTRATIVE and campaign expenses and memberships

in state and national community fund organizations are expected to be $755 to make the goal of $32,300.

That goal is $2,300 more than the 1959 goal. However, addition of the new agency and increases in all but Salvation Army budgets account for $2,325.

The Budget and Admissions committee submitted the report of its work to the trustees, and it was approved. Members of the committee are Dr. Robert Burton, Mrs. Karl Mason, Mrs. Walter Heine and Robert K. Harrod.

Harrod is 1960 campaign chairman and James B. Carr is co-chairman. They accepted the goal as set by the trustees.

The trustees also authorized purchase of $30,000 bond for the 1960-61 treasurer and approved transfer of $500 to the new treasurer, David Hoffman, to be used for campaign expenses.

In charge of the meeting was L. D. Varble, president of the Pickaway County Community Fund.

Sesquicentennial Group Discusses Fair Program

The Pickaway County Sesquicentennial Committee last night met with representatives of county civic clubs and veterans' groups to discuss tentative plans for celebrating the county's 150th anniversary during the County Fair.

Harry Montelius, Sesquicentennial program chairman, was in charge of the meeting along with Robert E. Hedges, chairman of the Sesquicentennial Committee.

Tentative plans call for the following Fair program, which starts August 1 and runs through August 6th.

Monday — Sesquicentennial reunion week starts on this date with Ohio notables on hand, such as the Governor, plus fireworks, old costume parade, band night and dedication of the 1,200-seat grandstand presently under construction.

TUESDAY — talent night with 4-H Clubs featured, 4-H Club Day, old costumes on display, barber-shop quartet contest, beauty contest and German Bands.

Wednesday — All-American Thrill Show, antique automobile parade and display and afternoon harness racing.

Thursday — county grange day with displays of antique agricultural equipment and evening harness races.

Friday — veterans day, horse pulling contest, Lions Club Kids' day games and old-time rifle muzzle-loading shooting match; Saturday — Western Horse Show, square dancing with old costumes to be worn to be eligible to dance, square dance calling contest, old-time fiddlers' contest and fireworks.

The Sesquicentennial Committee is boosting the Fair time activities to celebrate the county's anniversary and assure larger crowds to attend the Fair.

MOST OF THE displays will be based around Sesquicentennial theme. A meeting will be held Tuesday at the Fairgrounds' Coliseum.

Soviet, Red China Stage Protests

LONDON (AP) — Millions demonstrated in the Soviet Union and Red China today as Communist propagandists whipped anti-Americanism to a frenzied pitch with a steady stream of invective against President Eisenhower.

The Peiping People's Daily, mouthpiece of the Mao Tse-tung regime, denounced the President as a "gangster" and "robber" and again charged him with wrecking the Paris summit meeting.

The Soviet army newspaper Red Star charged that Vice President Richard M. Nixon's visit to the Soviet Union last year amounted to a spying mission.

Black Mart Baby Sale Ring Probed

NEW YORK (AP) — A Queens County grand jury is investigating a coast-to-coast black market baby ring selling at huge market the babies of unwed girls who find themselves pregnant and broke in Hollywood.

The probe opened Thursday with the questioning of a 33-year-old local woman, estranged from her husband, Queens Dist. Atty. Frank D. O'Connor said the woman received $500 for her baby last December and that it was sold by the ring for $3,500.

However, said O'Connor, most of the babies came from the movie capital. He said Beverly Hills doctors and lawyers steered the young mothers to agents of the ring.

Most of the babies, he said, were paid for here, with the prospective parents flying to the West Coast to pick up the infants. Asst. Dist. Atty. Thomas P. Cullen said he understood that elsewhere in the country the babies were sold for as high as $15,000 each. The mothers, Cullen said, often get little more than their hospital bills paid.

Cullen said some prospective parents even purchase the babies on the installment plan, paying $200 a month until their intended child is born, then paying off the balance.

Japanese Students Protest U.S. Pact

TOKYO (AP) — Angry students protesting the first parliamentary approval of Japan's new security alliance with the United States fought club-swinging police on the grounds of Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's official residence today.

Kishi was reported in his private home four miles away. The pact gives the United States the right to maintain bases here for another 10 years in exchange for a pledge to defend Japan against aggression.

His second speech this afternoon was arranged in a hall holding only 5,000, and hardly a stage for a Khrushchev circus.

But in what Khrushchev said on his arrival there was a slight shift in emphasis. He informed the East German Communists of a "new situation" because of the Paris summit blowup.

The implication was that the question of West Berlin, an isolated island of 2,200,000 people 110 miles inside Communist-ruled territory, cannot be settled at a conference table. That may have been one of the several reasons why Khrushchev felt impelled to wreck the summit meeting.

Had Khrushchev negotiated, he would have met a stone wall of opposition to his proposals to turn West Berlin into an international city and to have all powers involved in the war against Nazi Germany sign peace treaties with Communist East Germany, as well as with West Germany. That would have given the East German Communists a claim on West Berlin.

On that issue, at least, Khrushchev would have come from a Paris showdown empty-handed. And he had committed himself to the statement that if the Western allies would not go along with his proposals, the Communists would proceed on their own. However, there has been no showdown on the issue, and Khrushchev, while speaking piously of the possibility of a new summit meeting many months from now, can safely drag his feet on the German questions.

Girl, 16, Loses Leg to Big Shark

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP)—A huge shark attacked a 16-year-old girl off Hidden Beach Thursday and mangled her left leg so severely it had to be amputated below the knee.

Suzanna Marie Theriot was swimming 150 feet offshore when the shark struck.

Her condition was described today as serious but improving. The attack was another in a series along the California coast that authorities blame on a warming trend of the waters and the movement of warm water fish northward.

Two Californians have been killed in the past year, one off San Francisco, the other off La Jolla, near San Diego.

Park Meters Installed For Boats in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Metropolitan Beach here claims the first parking meters for boats in the country.

The meters are at boat wells at the municipal beach. Meters charge a quarter an hour at wells with fresh water and electrical outlets.

Meters charging a dime are at wells with only tieup facilities.

Nose Cone Dropped Into Indian Ocean In Only 52½ Minutes

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A U.S. Atlas missile streaked 9,000 miles in 52½ minutes today in a record-smashing flight past the tip of Africa to a chosen target area in the southern Indian Ocean.

Satisfaction with the results was apparent in an Air Force announcement that first reports indicated "all test objectives were achieved."

The list of objectives included the 9,000-mile flight, far exceeding any previously recorded missile shot, and impact in a target area small enough to demonstrate the accuracy required for military effectiveness.

It was the longest surface-to-surface missile flight on record, surpassing the 7,760 miles claimed by the Russians for a rocket they launched into the Central Pacific last Jan. 20. The longest previous Atlas flight was 6,325 miles.

The mighty Atlas powered into the sky from this missile test center at 10 a. m. EST. An hour later the Air Force reported the rocket successfully dropped its tactical-type nose cone in the intended impact area 1,000 miles southeast of Capetown, South Africa, and about 500 miles northeast of the British-owned Prince Edward Islands.

An official said the Atlas was aimed at a point exactly 9,000 miles from Cape Canaveral.

An announcement said, "Preliminary telemetry data indicates that all test objectives were achieved."

The missile was geared to: Reach a peak altitude of more than 1,000 miles and a top speed of about 17,000 miles an hour, just about the height-speed combination that might send it off into orbit.

Pass between the coast of Brazil and Ascension Island, the last tracking station on the Atlantic missile range.

14 Arrested In Dayton Labor Dispute

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Fourteen persons were arrested Thursday as the aftermath of a free-for-all battle at a strikebound plant here. A deputy sheriff and a picket were injured in the fight.

The fight broke out at the strike-bound Jalousies of Ohio Co., just east of the city, when the day shift quit work at 3 p. m. Pickets, workers hired by the firm during the strike, and deputies tangled.

James Eugene Schoeder, 26, of Dayton, the injured picket, was treated for a head injury. Then he was charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

A deputy was hit in the eye with an egg shell loaded with red paint. Following the fist-swinging ruckus, Jesse Phillips, the company president, telegraphed Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, charging "the law enforcement has broken down in this (Montgomery) county." He said he would meet today with a governor's representative to discuss the possibility of state aid in keeping order.

Sheriff Bernard L. Keiter said there was a strong possibility he would ask Dayton city police to help maintain order at the plant.

The Jalousie firm has been struck since Monday by 150 members of Local 528 of the Sheet Metal Workers. Contract negotiations broke off Saturday. Both company and union officials said the dispute is over a 2-cents-an-hour wage increase. Union employees now have a minimum starting wage of $1.10 an hour with a boost after six months to $1.20.

Community Fund Goal Is $32,300

A goal of $32,300 was set for the 1960 campaign of the Pickaway County Community Fund last night.

The Board of Trustees of the community fund approved that figure as a goal and added a new agency to the fund — The Well-Child Clinic.

That makes six agencies which derive their funds from the Pickaway County Community Fund. The other five agencies, re-approved for another year, are Red Cross, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Youth Canteen.

The trustees also approved budgets for the various agencies last night.

They are Red Cross, $14,795; Salvation Army $3,500; Boy Scouts, $4,500; Girl Scouts, $3,200; Youth Canteen, $4,050, and Well-Child Clinic, $1,500.

ADMINISTRATIVE and campaign expenses and memberships

In state and national community fund organizations are expected to be $755 to make the goal of $32,300.

That goal is $2,300 more than the 1959 goal. However, addition of the new agency and increases in all but Salvation Army budgets account for $2,325.

The Budget and Admissions committee submitted the report of its work to the trustees, and it was approved. Members of the committee are Dr. Robert Burton, Mrs. Karl Mason, Mrs. Walter Heine and Robert K. Harrod.

Harrod is 1960 campaign chairman and James B. Carr is co-chairman. They accepted the goal as set by the trustees.

The trustees also authorized purchase of $30,000 bond for the 1960-61 treasurer and approved transfer of $500 to the new treasurer, David Hoffman, to be used for campaign expenses.

In charge of the meeting was L. D. Varble, president of the Pickaway County Community Fund.

Sesquicentennial Group Discusses Fair Program

The Pickaway County Sesquicentennial Committee last night met with representatives of county civic clubs and veterans' groups to discuss tentative plans for celebrating the county's 150th anniversary during the County Fair.

Harry Montelius, Sesquicentennial program chairman, was in charge of the meeting along with Robert E. Hedges, chairman of the Sesquicentennial Committee.

Tentative plans call for the following Fair program, which starts August 1 and runs through August 6th.

Monday — Sesquicentennial reunion week starts on this date with Ohio notables on hand, such as the Governors, plus fireworks, old costume parade, band night and dedication of the 1,200-seat grandstand presently under construction.

TUESDAY — talent night with 4-H Clubs featured, 4-H Club Day, old costumes on display, barber-shop quartet contest, beauty contest and German Bands;

Wednesday — All-American Thrill Show, antique automobile parade and display and afternoon harness racing;

Thursday — county grange day with displays of antique agricultural equipment and evening harness races;

Friday — veterans day, horse pulling contest, Lions Club Kids' day, a m. e. x. and old-time rifle muzzle-loading shooting match;

Saturday — Western Horse Show, square dancing with old costumes to be worn to be eligible to dance, square dance calling contest, old time fiddlers' contest and fireworks.

The Sesquicentennial Committee is boosting the Fair time activities to celebrate the county's anniversary and assure larger crowds to attend the Fair.

MOST OF THE displays will be based around Sesquicentennial theme. A meeting will be held Tuesday at the Fairgrounds' Coliseum.

Soviet, Red China Stage Protests

LONDON (AP) — Millions demonstrated in the Soviet Union and Red China today as Communist propagandists whipped anti-Americanism to a frenzied pitch with a steady stream of invective against President Eisenhower.

The Peiping People's Daily, mouthpiece of the Mao Tse-tung regime, denounced the President as a "gangster" and "robber" and again charged him with wrecking the Paris summit meeting.

The Soviet army newspaper Red Star charged that Vice President Richard M. Nixon's visit to the Soviet Union last year amounted to a spying mission.

seum office with two members from each of the four civic clubs — Kiwanis, Rotary, Junior Chamber of Commerce and Lions — to discuss their part of the celebration at the Fair.

In attendance last night were William L. Cook, County Agriculture Society secretary - manager; Montford Kirkwood, Rotary representative; Frank Gill, Kiwanis; James I. Smith III, Jaycees; Merle Thomas, Veterans of Foreign Wars; Charles Jackson, Disabled American Veterans, and Dr. G. D. Phillips, member of the Sesquicentennial program committee.

It is hoped that through the efforts of the granges, 4-H Clubs, civic clubs and veterans groups each will take a part of the Fair program to boost Sesquicentennial activities as well as the Fair.

Black Mart Baby Sale Ring Probed

NEW YORK (AP) — A Queens County grand jury is investigating a coast-to-coast black market baby ring selling at huge market the babies of unwed girls who find themselves pregnant and broke in Hollywood.

The probe opened Thursday with the questioning of a 33-year-old local woman, estranged from her husband, Queens Dist. Atty. Frank D. O'Connor said the woman received $500 for her baby last December and that it was sold by the ring for $3,500.

However, said O'Connor, most of the babies came from the movie capital. He said Beverly Hills doctors and lawyers steered the young mothers to agents of the ring.

Most of the babies, he said, were paid for here, with the prospective parents flying to the West Coast to pick up the infants. Asst. Dist. Atty. Thomas P. Cullen said he understood that elsewhere in the country the babies were sold for as high as $15,000 each. The mothers, Cullen said, often get little more than their hospital bills paid.

Cullen said some prospective parents even purchase the babies on the installment plan, paying $200 a month until their intended child is born, then paying off the balance.

Japanese Students Protest U.S. Pact

TOKYO (AP) — Angry students protesting the first parliamentary approval of Japan's new security alliance with the United States fought club-swinging police on the grounds of Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's official residence today.

Kishi was reported in his private home four miles away. The pact gives the United States the right to maintain bases here for another 10 years in exchange for a pledge to defend Japan against aggression.

Reds Seek Binding Ban on Espionage

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko flies to New York today in pursuit of a U. N. prohibition against American spy flights that will be binding after President Eisenhower leaves the White House.

In a telegram to the U. N. Security Council Thursday night, Gromyko brushed aside Eisenhower's statement in Paris that U. S. flights over Soviet territory had been halted and would not be resumed.

Gromyko said Eisenhower could not promise the aerial spying would not be resumed after he leaves office in January and therefore the President's statement was only "a tactical step" taken "with the object of deluding world public opinion."

The Security Council meets Monday afternoon to take up the Soviet charge of U. S. aggression based on the U2 reconnaissance plane which the Soviets brought down on Soviet territory on May Day. Gromyko was due in New York tonight from Paris to represent the Soviets in the council debate.

Soviet Record

thrust generated by its three big engines, the 85-foot, 120-ton Atlas lifted smoothly from its pad.

A brilliant trail of red-orange flame traced the rocket's path as it shot through a slightly hazy sky and streaked southeast.

Two U. S. planes and one ship, all packed with electronic detection and tracking equipment, waited in the impact zone. They had a double assignment—to warn shipping from the area and track the nose cone's blazing re-entry through the earth's atmosphere. There was no plan to recover the cone.

The Air Force emphasized the intercontinental shot was part of the continuing Atlas research and development program and not a propaganda stunt to better the distance achieved by the Soviet "superrocket."

"We want to subject the components of the Atlas to extreme conditions at maximum range," an official said. "This is not a stripped down missile, but one carrying a full instrumentation load of about 1,000 pounds. The full load has not been increased. The extra distance is achieved by increasing the velocity of the missile and firing it on a higher trajectory."

The missile carried a tactical-type nose cone weighted with ballast to simulate the weight of a hydrogen warhead.

Earlier this month, the Defense Department announced the shot was imminent. Officials hoped to get it off before President Eisenhower left for the Paris summit meeting. But technical problems delayed the effort.

The Atlas earlier this year ran a string of test successes to 18 before one of the big missiles exploded on launching at Cape Canaveral March 10. During this time the Atlas averaged hitting within two miles of the bullseye at ranges up to 6,325 miles.

Extension of the Atlas' range would have a direct military bearing by bringing more targets within reach and permitting U. S. missile bases to be located farther from any potential enemy.

For example, 6,325-mile missiles from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., flying over the arctic, could reach only the northern two-thirds of Russia. An increase of 9,000 miles would cover all the of 9,000 miles would cover all the Soviet Union. Bases have been planned in Texas and New Mexico.

Spy Plane Incident Stirrs Ohioans Little

Columbus Men Arrested Here For Sex Crime

Two Columbus men picked up in the northern part of the county this week are being held here on charges of sodomy.

Apprehended were Stephen R. Wildermuth, 23, and Philip L. Bollinger, 19. They were bound to the Pickaway County Grand Jury under $2,000 bond each.

Wildermuth and Bollinger appeared in Circleville Municipal Court yesterday for preliminary hearing. They pleaded guilty.

The men were apprehended by Deputy Sheriff's Dwight Radcliff and Marion Hoover Wednesday night in a secluded area off Route 762 near the Scioto River.

Radcliff said Wildermuth and Bollinger admitted having intimate relations shortly before the sheriff's cruiser reached the scene. The deputy said both were only partially clothed when he opened the door of their car.

Radcliff said he and Hoover were on regular patrol when they spotted the men's car parked off the road. They stopped for an immediate investigation.

Bollinger told the deputies he is a student at Ohio State University. Wildermuth said he worked as a salesman in Columbus.

According to their statement, they met earlier Wednesday night in a Columbus theater and agreed to take a ride together.

Deputy Radcliff said Wildermuth admitted engaging in homosexual activities since he was 18. Bollinger said Wednesday night was his first sex offense.

Both men were charged with violating Section 2905.44 of the Ohio Revised Code. The affidavit was filed by Deputy Radcliff.

Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff said holders have been placed on both

Whozit Caught Then Released

Circleville police were not sure whether a person they picked up today was a man or a woman.

Sgt. Turney Ross said the person they picked up identified himself as Timothy Triplicata, 22, of New York City. Ross said the man had the actions and appearances of a woman.

Officers said Triplicata was picked up at the Arlington Service Station on Lancaster Pike. The man said he was thumbing to New York.

Police said the man had false eyelashes and eyebrows, painted lips and hair like a woman's. They said he walked and talked a feminine style.

Sgt. Ross said Triplicata was questioned and released after it was learned that he had committed no apparent violation here. The man told officers that he had been stopped in Wilmington and Washington C. H. by officers suspicious of his appearance, then released.

Triplicata said he was thumbing from New Orleans to New York.

Muny Court Hears Intoxication Counts

Cases handled in Circleville Municipal Court today included two motorists arrested for driving under the influence of intoxicants.

Paul H. Vlack, 26, Columbus, was fined $125 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months. He was arrested by city police.

Richard E. Butler, 31, of 609 1/2 S. Court St., forfeited a $200 bond on a charge of driving under the influence. According to the court, a warrant has been issued for his arrest to serve the mandatory jail sentence for intoxicated driving.

Butler was arrested by city police.

Fault Develops In Red Space Ship

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union's experimental space ship developed a fault Thursday during an attempt to bring its cabin back to earth, the Soviet news agency Tass announced today.

Early Thursday, Tass said, orders were radioed to the ship to switch on a braking device, detach the cabin and bring it down from orbit.

"However, as a result of a fault which had developed by that time in one of the instruments of the space ship's orientation system, the direction of the retrorocket's blast deviated from that planned," Tass said.

Moscow said the cabin was detached from the 4 1/2-ton space ship successfully and was moving along in the vicinity of it.

Reds Seek Binding Ban on Espionage

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko files to New York today in pursuit of a U. N. prohibition against American spy flights that will be binding after President Eisenhower leaves the White House.

In a telegram to the U. N. Security Council Thursday night, Gromyko brushed aside Eisenhower's statement in Paris that U. S. flights over Soviet territory had been halted and would not be resumed.

Gromyko said Eisenhower could not promise the aerial spying would not be resumed after he leaves office in January and therefore the President's statement was only "a tactical step" taken "with the object of deluding world public opinion."

The Security Council meets Monday afternoon to take up the Soviet charge of U. S. aggression based on the U2 reconnaissance plane which the Soviets brought down on Soviet territory on May Day. Gromyko was due in New York tonight from Paris to represent the Soviets in the council debate.

The council meeting was shaping up as another Big Four foreign ministers' debate. British sources said Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd was expected to represent his government. The French said if Lloyd came, Foreign Secretary Maurice Couve de Murville probably would attend. So, presumably, would U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, although the U. S. delegation Thursday night said it did not yet know his plans.

Asked for comment on Gromyko's new charge, a U. S. delegation spokesman referred to an earlier statement by the chief U. S. delegate, Henry Cabot Lodge, that the United States will meet all Soviet charges head on in the council.

Lodge, in Washington to confer with Eisenhower and Herter after their return today, said he thought the United States would be able to prove that the Soviet charge of aggression was "fallacious, and will be able to do so to the satisfaction of any impartial observer."

CHS Senior Girls Hold '60 Banquet

Senior Service Over Self girls of Circleville High School recently entertained their mothers at the annual Mother-Daughter banquet in the social rooms at school.

Following the dinner President Cheryl Evans acted as toastmistress. She opened the program by welcoming the mothers. Mrs. John Evans, Cheryl's mother, responded for the mothers.

After each of the girls had introduced her mother, the vice president, Mary Pennington, listed the club's activities for the year.

Every year the club gives awards to those members who have made outstanding contributions to the club's work and activities. This year five girls—Linda Moffitt, Sally Pettit, Elizabeth Tomlinson, Sara Wanz and Judy Woodward were honored.

In an impressive ceremony the new officers received their books and titles from the outgoing officers.

Officers for next year are: Katherine Measner, president; Jacqueline Gibbs, vice president; Mary Ann Saunders, treasurer; Sandra Smith, recording secretary; Terry Trone, corresponding secretary; Stephanie Hedges, program chairman; Mona Davis, publicity chairman, and Dora Greene, service chairman.

Senior members then presented a skit on high school life. Concluding the program the girls sang good-bye songs which they had written.

In addition to the mothers, other guests were Mrs. Charles Kirkpatrick, public health nurse; Miss Elma Rains; Mr. and Mrs. J. Wray Henry, and Mr. George A. Hartman.

Mrs. Alfred Gabriel, home economics teacher, and her pupils prepared and served the dinner.

The 1959-1960 officers were Miss Evans, president; Linda Moffitt, treasurer; Judy Lanier, recording secretary; Diane Johnson, corresponding secretary; Patricia Schroeder, program chairman; Sandra Smith, publicity chairman and Sherry Hull, service chairman. Mrs. Charles Boggs is adviser.

thrust generated by its three big engines, the 85-foot, 120-ton Atlas lifted smoothly from its pad.

A brilliant tail of red-orange flame traced the rocket's path as it shot through a slightly hazy sky and streaked southeast.

Two U. S. planes and one ship, all packed with electronic detection and tracking equipment, waited in the impact zone. They had a double assignment—to warn shipping from the area and track the nose cone's blazing re-entry through the earth's atmosphere. There was no plan to recover the cone.

The Air Force emphasized the interconco shot was part of the continuing Atlas research and development program and not a propaganda stunt to better the distance achieved by the Soviet "superrocket."

"We want to subject the components of the Atlas to extreme conditions at maximum range," an official said. "This is not a stripped down missile, but one carrying a full instrumentation load of about 1,000 pounds. The full load has not been increased. The extra distance is achieved by increasing the velocity of the missile and firing it on a higher trajectory."

The missile carried a tactical type nose cone weighted with ballast to simulate the weight of a hydrogen warhead.

Earlier this month, the Defense Department announced the shot was imminent. Officials hoped to get it off before President Eisenhower left for the Paris summit meeting. But technical problems delayed the effort.

The Atlas earlier this year ran a string of test successes to 18 before one of the big missiles exploded on launching at Cape Canaveral March 10. During this time the Atlas averaged hitting within two miles of the bullseye at ranges up to 6,325 miles.

Extension of the Atlas' range would have a direct military bearing by bringing more targets within reach and permitting U. S. missile bases to be located farther from any potential enemy.

For example, 6,325-mile missiles from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., flying over the arctic, could reach only the northern two-thirds of Russia. An increase of 9,000 miles would cover all the Soviet Union. Bases have been planned in Texas and New Mexico.

Spy Plane Incident Stirs Ohioans Little

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio) has received about 2,000 letters—a record this year—asking him to support a pay raise for postal workers.

But the issue of war or peace fails to stir many Ohioans to write their senators.

He has received about 25 letters on the spy plane incident. Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) has received three.

Columbus Men Arrested Here For Sex Crime

Two Columbus men picked up in the northern part of the county this week are being held here on charges of sodomy.

Apprehended were Stephen R. Wildermuth, 23, and Philip L. Bollinger, 19. They were bound to the Pickaway County Grand Jury under $2,000 bond each.

Wildermuth and Bollinger appeared in Circleville Municipal Court yesterday for preliminary hearing. They pleaded guilty.

The men were apprehended by Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff and Marion Hoover Wednesday night in a secluded area off Route 762 near the Scioto River.

DEPUTY Radcliff said Wildermuth and Bollinger admitted having intimate relations shortly before the sheriff's cruiser reached the scene. The deputy said both were only partially clothed when he opened the door of their car.

Radcliff said he and Hoover were on regular patrol when they spotted the men's car parked off the road. They stopped for an immediate investigation.

Bollinger told the deputies he is a student at Ohio State University. Wildermuth said he worked as a salesman in Columbus.

According to their statement, they met earlier Wednesday night in a Columbus theater and agreed to take a ride together.

Deputy Radcliff said Wildermuth admitted engaging in homosexual activities since he was 18. Bollinger said Wednesday night was his first sex offense.

Both men were charged with violating Section 2905.44 of the Ohio Revised Code. The affidavit was filed by Deputy Radcliff.

Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff said holders have been placed on both men by Columbus Police for possible connection with sex offenses in that city.

Whozit Caught Then Released

Circleville police were not sure whether a person they picked up today was a man or a woman.

Sgt. Turney Ross said the person they picked up identified himself as Timothy Triplicata, 22, of New York City. Ross said the man had the actions and appearances of a woman.

Officers said Triplicata was picked up at the Arledge Service Station on Lancaster Pike. The man said he was thumbing to New York.

Police said the man had false eyelashes and eyebrows, painted lips and hair like a woman's. They said he walked and talked a feminine style.

Sgt. Ross said Triplicata was questioned and released after it was learned that he had committed no apparent violation here. The man told officers that he had been stopped in Wilmington and Washington C. H. by officers suspicious of his appearance, then released.

Triplicata said he was thumbing from New Orleans to New York.

Muny Court Hears Intoxication Counts

Cases handled in Circleville Municipal Court today included two motorists arrested for driving under the influence of intoxicants.

Paul H. Vlack, 26, Columbus, was fined $125 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months. He was arrested by city police.

Richard E. Butler, 31, of 609 1/2 S. Court St., forfeited a $200 bond on a charge of driving under the influence. According to the court, a warrant has been issued for his arrest to serve the mandatory jail sentence for intoxicated driving.

Butler was arrested by city police.

Fault Develops In Red Space Ship

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union's experimental space ship developed a fault Thursday during an attempt to bring its cabin back to earth, the Soviet news agency Tass announced today.

Early Thursday, Tass said, orders were radioed to the ship to switch on a braking device, detach the cabin and bring it down from orbit.

"However, as a result of a fault which had developed by that time in one of the instruments of the space ship's orientation system, the direction of the retrorocket's blast deviated from that planned," Tass said.

Moscow said the cabin was detached from the 4 1/2-ton space ship successfully and was moving along in the vicinity of it.

Sincerity in Religious Practices

THE RIGHT AND WRONG WAYS OF APPROACHING
GOD IN PRAYER

Scripture—Matthew 6:1-18; Luke 18:9-14.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL,
THE REV. DR. WILBUR M.
SMITH, in Peloubet's Notes, writes: "We all ought to approach this lesson in the spirit of the request made of Jesus by His disciples, 'Lord, teach us to pray.' (Luke 11:1) . . .
The word of God is filled with this theme of prayer, and how impoorished most of us remain because we do not appropriate the promises made by God to those who enter into the secret chamber and approach His throne! In the Sermon on the Mount, emphasis is continually placed on spiritual reality, that is, the condition and character of the heart, in contrast to mere external pretenses."

"This portion of the Sermon on the Mount," he writes, "begins with a warning, the basic theme of which is carried throughout the entire chapter, namely, when we perform what seeth in secret Himself shall reward thee openly."—Matthew 6:1-4.

Then Christ talked of the subject of prayer. "And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward."

"But thou, when thou pray-est, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly."—Matthew 6:5-6.
You will feel very near to your heavenly Father if you pray in this manner. Christ gave us the ideal prayer, beginning, "Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name."—Matthew 6:9.

MEMORY VERSE

"The Lord seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart."
—1 Samuel 16:7.

are called righteous acts, we ought not to parade this before men, but do it as in the sight of God only."

It is natural for us all, young or old, to be happy when we have done a good deed or accomplished a difficult task, but we need not brag about it. What did Christ say about this matter?
Let us read His words and try to follow His teachings.
"Take heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them; otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven."

"Therefore, when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do . . . that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward. But when thou doest alms, let not your left hand know what thy right hand doeth: that thine alms may be in secret; and thy Father which is in heaven will reward thee."

College Enrollment Slated To Double

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Enrollment in Ohio's colleges and universities is expected to double by the end of the 1960s, reaching 200,000 fulltime students, Ohio State University's president said today.
Costs also will mount, said Dr.
Novice G. Fawcett, and he cautioned against "placing the major burden of expansion on the shoulders of the students" through tuition increases.
The increase in what the student pays, he told a special semi-centennial convocation of Kent State University, "should not exceed the rate or percentage which students now pay toward the total university budget."

Bellefontaine Protects Historic Half-Block

BELLEFONTAINE, Ohio (AP)—
When Ohio 47 and Ohio 68 in the city is resurfaced with asphalt soon, a half-block stretch in front of the Logan County Courthouse will go untouched. This street is the nation's oldest concrete street.
When state-city improvement projects plan to asphalt the street became known, residents rose to the defense of the historic, 67 year-old thoroughfare, and voted to maintain the stretch in its concrete form.

Ohio River Boat Setup To Be Aired

CINCINNATI (AP)—Legal experts of five states bordering the Ohio River will try again at Louisville on June 20 to arrive at a solution as to how and by whom boats used on the river are to be licensed.

The hassle over boat licensing has arisen as the result of a new federal law requiring licensing in the states in which the boats principally are used.
One of the major points at issue is who owns the river. Officials of Kentucky and West Virginia have claimed the river belongs to them and that boats used principally on the Ohio should be licensed by those two states regardless of where they are moored.

Joseph Deutscher Jr., chief counsel for the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, sought unsuccessfully at a five-state conference here Wednesday to have a resolution adopted by which boat owners would buy their licenses in the states in which they reside.

He said he has been advising Cincinnati residents to buy their boat licenses in Ohio.
It was at Deutscher's suggestion, however, that the group representing the states of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois and West Virginia agreed Wednesday to have legal experts meet again in an effort to settle the problem.

There was a feeling, however, that there will have to be some kind of clarification of the law from the U.S. Supreme Court before a solution could be reached.

Garden Relieves Stress

There comes a time when to read about gardening is not enough. The desire for a plot, be it large or small, that is one's very own is irresistible. Even a window box will serve.

The urge to dig, to plant, to cultivate, to watch grow seems to seize even the most sophisticated. The humble nasturtium, grown from seed, is just as welcome as one of the rarer and more difficult roses.

One of the attractions of amateur gardening is that it keeps the gardener out of doors, or at least provides him with a useful excuse, which reclining on the lawn to smoke or read would not. Americans seem to feast leisure, when it denotes mere resting or dreaming.

Hobbies are supposed to make leisure useful, although when an avocation becomes too utilitarian it loses its savor. That's what makes amateur gardening such a pleasure. Those who engage in it cannot do it as well as a professional and wouldn't want to. The end is decorative, ephemeral, without profit. Most suburban vegetable gardeners raise food for predators, squirrels and insects.

One of the main delights of gardening is the fact that it can be done here and now. Winter is a time for examination of seed catalogues, checking equipment in the basement, planning new groupings of shrubs, new combinations of color. Now is the time to get out and dig, plant, sprinkle when necessary, weed and admire. Leisure takes form and substance, gives pleasure to those who indulge in it and others.

Leisure means freedom and exemption from the normal cares of life. Nowhere is it to be found with greater satisfaction than in a garden.

Remarks To Irk a Lifeguard

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks from a lifeguard gets tired of hearing it.

"Ooh, look at the nice man's sweat big muscles. Is it all right if I touch them?"

"He's been here five summers, and I haven't seen him wet yet. I don't know whether the guy's allergic to water—or has simply forgotten how to swim."

"Ask him for a date, Mabel. A guy with his muscles ought to be strong enough to pick up a dinner check."

"Is it true that if a girl isn't young and pretty, you just go ahead and let her drown?"

"Hey, Joe, wake up—the sun's gone down."

"How do you life guards live through the winter — by fishing through holes in the ice?"

"I think there's a shark out there. Would you mind swimming out and taking a look?"

"No, I wouldn't say he was overdeveloped all over—just from the neck down."

"Me Jane. You Tarzan?"

"Since they started allowing Bikinis here, I haven't seen him look at the ocean once."

"I want that little brat arrested this very minute. He deliberately stepped on my daughter's sand castle."

"Every time you blow that whistle you wake my husband up. Do you have to play traffic cop all day long?"

"All right, Buster, I'm not paying you just to sit up there and pose. Grab a rake and help me get some of the orange peels off this beach."

"Would you mind smearing this sunburn lotion on my back. I want to make my husband jealous."

"My little boy dropped his hot dog in the sand. Will you let him sit up there with you so he'll stop crying?"

"Yeah, but take away those muscles and what've you got? It takes more than a suntan to get ahead in Wall Street."

"He was the only accident case here last year. He fell off his platform when a blonde busted her shoulder strap."

Truman-Hoover Friendship

Harry Truman is forthright. What he wants to say, he says. The diversions of diplomacy, the twists of small talk seem not to bother him at all.

In an article in "Look" magazine, he describes vividly how General Dwight D. Eisenhower snubbed him on Inauguration Day. And Harry is like an elephant. Every attempt to reconcile Truman and Eisenhower has failed.

It is to be remembered that Truman had appointed Eisenhower to high office. To a practical politician, such as Truman always is, Eisenhower is an ingrate — an awful word among politicians.

At any rate, in the "Look" article, Truman goes out of his way to point up Eisenhower as a rude, boorish person, lacking in propriety and respect. Then, by way of contrast, he lauds Herbert Hoover.

Regarding Hoover, Truman says:

"I shook hands with President Eisenhower and said good-bye to him. As I walked toward the exit, I went over to former President Herbert Hoover and greeted him. Mr. Hoover said, 'I think we ought to organize a former Presidents' club.'"

"Fine," I replied. "You be the president of the club, and I will be the secretary."

"Without any formality, we have managed to keep in touch with each other since. Despite our basic political differences, we have respect for each other, and our relationship has always been in the best American tradition. Our Republic certainly has grown mature enough for men in high places to rise above petulance, and to subordinate their capriciousness to their obligations as elected officials."

Herbert Hoover and Harry Truman developed a friendship which has most interesting overtones. Hoover, who is a very sensitive person, could never quite understand how his friend, Truman, in a campaign speech, could say some pretty awful things about Hoover. Nevertheless, the friendship has persisted. During the Truman Administration, Hoover, who had been ignored by Franklin D. Roosevelt as though he did not exist, was twice employed in most serious offices.

The Commission on Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government, usually called the Hoover Commission, has been closest to President Hoover's heart and to it he devoted several years of his life at a very advanced age. It made Herbert Hoover happy to be restored to public activity. He worked on the Hoover Commission constantly and its reports are models of competent investigation. Truman speaks of Hoover's relief work.

"Mr. Hoover did a magnificent job for our country, and for other nations, in helping to prevent the starvation of millions of people. And when his work was taken up by the relevant government agencies, he expressed a readiness to assume any other tasks I thought he could perform for the Government of the United States."

Summarizing his views on Hoover, Truman says:

"I shall never be able to understand the long neglect of Herbert Hoover, no matter what the events and circumstances of his Administration were. How history may eventually assess his Administration we ought to leave to history."

"Politically and economically, he and I are on opposite sides on basic issues. But I hold him in high esteem as a man of character and capacity and talent, and he deserved better treatment at the hands of his own party. I thought, too, that President Roosevelt might have invited him to join the bipartisan group so wisely set up to administer the war effort."

Harry Truman's judgment of Herbert Hoover is sound, as anyone who knows the former President well recognizes. Hoover, at 85, is as keen-minded as any man I know. He is on the beam on political questions, domestic and foreign. Daily he meets important and active people as they pass through New York. Each year he goes to Florida to fish and to California where he has lived so large a part of his life. He is busily engaged writing the books which are published one after the other each year. Retired from active partisan politics, his influence grows each year as, more and more, his juniors ask his advice.

Harry Truman is much in the same position on the Democratic side. What our system proves is that high-minded men can campaign against each other, oppose each other, hold differing views and live in friendship.

It is not that they do not take their politics seriously; it is that they recognize that hatred, bigotry, retaliation are not desirable qualities in a free society.

Program for Fathers-To-Be

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

A father-to-be has to change his daily routine long before the arrival of the expected baby. There is much that you husbands can do to make things a bit easier for the little woman during this sometimes trying period.

Unfortunately, not every husband realizes that he also has definite responsibilities for the safety of his wife and unborn child.

So here are a few of the husband's duties while his wife is pregnant.

1. Do all the heavy work around the house yourself. Don't let your wife wash heavy clothing, beat the rugs or do any heavy lifting.

2. You do the reaching for items on high shelves. Don't let your wife do any chair or ladder-climbing.

3. Don't complain about the meals. Your wife's doctor will insist that she eat the proper foods in adequate amounts. This might change your meal pattern slightly, but it will be for the better.

4. Do some of the housework yourself, especially during the final three months of your wife's pregnancy.

In most cases, it is good for the expectant mother to do some light housework, but she should take short naps or half-hour rest periods so she won't become "played out." So enough of the work to permit her to rest with ease.

5. Spend more time at home. I know how nice it is to spend an evening or two with the boys each week, but your wife needs your companionship and moral support more than ever during pregnancy.

6. Compliment her frequently.

Assure her that her figure will be just as lovely after the birth of the baby as it was before she became pregnant.

7. Serve her breakfast in bed occasionally. You don't have to spoil her, but make her feel that you understand her problems and want to try to make things as easy for her as possible. Besides, a light breakfast of cereal or toast before arising might often help prevent morning sickness.

8. Have everything ready for the trip to the hospital well in advance. Make a list of the telephone numbers of the doctor, the hospital, a neighbor and the taxicab company. Also make sure your wife knows where to contact you, should the big moment arrive when you are away from home.

There are other duties, too, but I think your wife will be satisfied if you just follow these.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 1960 summit fiasco before and after—gets dizzier by the minute. If you listen, you can hear an old record being replayed.

Take the American U2 spy plane which was downed over the Soviet Union. President Eisenhower told Premier Nikita Khrushchev there will be no more spy plane flights over Soviet territory.

But Thursday The Associated Press reported this country is so far along with the development of spy satellites that the first of a planned network of them should be circling the earth in four months.

The AP reported: "Experts say it will do a far more effective job than the U2 could—and will be much harder to knock down."

The AP added:

These satellites, whirling around the earth's poles with photographic and TV equipment, will be able to scan every square mile of the earth's surface and relay to Allied ground stations the location of Soviet missile sites and any unusual concentration of troops or war materials.

The Soviets have appealed to the United Nations Security Council to hear their charges of aggression by the U2 plane flights. The council meets Monday.

Eisenhower will propose later that the U.N. supervise international aerial surveillance aimed at guarding the world against surprise attacks.

But it's a real switch for the Soviets to go to the Security Council to handle a problem which couldn't be solved at the summit because Khrushchev broke up the summit meeting as soon as it began.

Just two years ago Khrushchev agreed to hold a summit meeting in the Security Council itself. He wanted the augmented council to hear another of his charges of American aggression but stopped the meeting before it began. He said the council was loaded in America's favor.

Thus this year's summit meeting was the second summit conference he blew up.

In 1958 when pro-Western Iraq fell to revolutionaries, this country sent Marines into Lebanon with the explanation they were there to protect that small country, right next to Iraq, from invasion.

The Soviets called this aggression and Khrushchev demanded a summit meeting right away. The United States proposed that the meeting be held in the Security Council itself, with the heads of government from the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union sitting on the council.

But a week before the council was scheduled to meet Khrushchev said: Nothing doing. He said the 11-nation council was weighted on America's side. So there was no summit meeting.

Now he wants to go to the council on the spy plane case even though a majority of the 11 nations on it are favorable to this country. This is the lineup: United States, Britain, France, the Nationalist Chinese, Argentina, Ecuador, Italy, Soviet Union, Ceylon, Poland and Tunisia. This country should be able to count on a minimum of six, including itself, perhaps more.

Khrushchev had actually started calling for a summit meeting in 1957 but Eisenhower put him off in a string of correspondence which included for a time Premier Bulganin and earned all three the name of pen-pals.

But Khrushchev got very demanding when the Marines went into Lebanon. That led to the planned Security Council summit meeting which Khrushchev sidestepped.

This is a sample of the correspondence, pulled together from their letters:

Khrushchev accused this country of aggression, said the commander of the Sixth Fleet was a criminal or insane, and practically said America's stated reason for going into Lebanon—to defend it—was a phony by an irresponsible leader. (This year he likened Eisenhower to a thief.)

Eisenhower in turn denounced Khrushchev's choice of language. He accused the Soviet Union of indirect aggression by supporting aggressive forces, and of undermining the U.N. by first wanting a summit meeting outside it. Eisenhower wound up charging Khrushchev with enslaving the satellites in Europe.

Program for Fathers-To-Be

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

A father-to-be has to change his daily routine long before the arrival of the expected baby. There is much that you husbands can do to make things a bit easier for the little woman during this sometimes trying period.

Unfortunately, not every husband realizes that he also has definite responsibilities for the safety of his wife and unborn child.

So here are a few of the husband's duties while his wife is pregnant.

1. Do all the heavy work around the house yourself. Don't let your wife wash heavy clothing, beat the rugs or do any heavy lifting.

2. You do the reaching for items on high shelves. Don't let your wife do any chair or ladder climbing.

3. Don't complain about the meals. Your wife's doctor will insist that she eat the proper foods in adequate amounts. This might change your meal pattern slightly, but it will be for the better.

4. Do some of the housework yourself, especially during the final three months of your wife's pregnancy.

In most cases, it is good for the expectant mother to do some light housework, but she should take short naps or half-hour rest periods so she won't become "played out." Do enough of the work to permit her to rest with ease.

5. Spend more time at home. I know how nice it is to spend an evening or two with the boys each week, but your wife needs your companionship and moral support more than ever during pregnancy.

6. Compliment her frequently.

Assure her that her figure will be just as lovely after the birth of the baby as it was before she became pregnant.

7. Serve her breakfast in bed occasionally. You don't have to spoil her, but make her feel that you understand her problems and want to try to make things as easy for her as possible. Besides, a light breakfast of cereal or toast before arising might often help prevent morning sickness.

8. Have everything ready for the trip to the hospital well in advance. Make a list of the telephone numbers of the doctor, the hospital, a neighbor and the taxicab company. Also make sure your wife knows where to contact you, should the big moment arrive when you are away from home.

There are other duties, too, but I think your wife will be satisfied if you just follow these.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 1960 summit fiasco before and after—gets dizzier by the minute. If you listen, you can hear an old record being replayed.

Take the American U2 spy plane which was downed over the Soviet Union. President Eisenhower told Premier Nikita Khrushchev there will be no more spy plane flights over Soviet territory.

But Thursday The Associated Press reported this country is so far along with the development of spy satellites that the first of a planned network of them should be circling the earth in four months.

The AP reported: "Experts say it will do a far more effective job than the U2 could—and will be much harder to knock down." The AP added:

These satellites, whirling around the earth's poles with photographic and TV equipment, will be able to scan every square mile of the earth's surface and relay to Allied ground stations the location of Soviet missile sites and any unusual concentration of troops or war materials.

The Soviets have appealed to the United Nations Security Council to hear their charges of aggression by the U2 plane flights. The council meets Monday.

Eisenhower will propose later that the U.N. supervise international aerial surveillance aimed at guarding the world against surprise attacks.

But it's a real switch for the Soviets to go to the Security Council to handle a problem which couldn't be solved at the summit because Khrushchev broke up the summit meeting as soon as it began.

Just two years ago Khrushchev agreed to hold a summit meeting in the Security Council itself. He wanted the augmented council to hear another of his charges of American aggression but stopped the meeting before it began. He said the council was loaded in America's favor.

Thus this year's summit meeting was the second summit conference he blew up.

In 1958 when pro-Western Iraq fell to revolutionaries, this country sent Marines into Lebanon with the explanation they were there to protect that small country, right next to Iraq, from invasion.

The Soviets called this aggression and Khrushchev demanded a summit meeting right away. The United States proposed that the meeting be held in the Security Council itself, with the heads of government from the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union sitting on the council.

But a week before the council was scheduled to meet Khrushchev said: Nothing doing. He said the 11-nation council was weighted on America's side. So there was no summit meeting.

Now he wants to go to the council on the spy plane case even though a majority of the 11 nations on it are favorable to this country. This is the lineup: United States, Britain, France, the Nationalist Chinese, Argentina, Ecuador, Italy, Soviet Union, Ceylon, Poland and Tunisia. This country should be able to count on a minimum of six, including itself, perhaps more.

By James Marlow

Khrushchev had actually started calling for a summit meeting in 1957 but Eisenhower put him off in a string of correspondence which included for a time Premier Bulganin and earned all three the name of pen-pals.

But Khrushchev got very demanding when the Marines went into Lebanon. That led to the planned Security Council summit meeting which Khrushchev sidestepped.

This is a sample of the correspondence, pulled together from their letters:

Khrushchev accused this country of aggression, said the commander of the Sixth Fleet was a criminal or insane, and practically said America's stated reason for going into Lebanon—to defend it—was a phony by an irresponsible leader. (This year he likened Eisenhower to a thief.)

Eisenhower in turn denounced Khrushchev's choice of language. He accused the Soviet Union of indirect aggression by supporting aggressive forces, and of undermining the U.N. by first wanting a summit meeting outside it. Eisenhower wound up charging Khrushchev with enslaving the satellites in Europe.

U.S.-Russian Fuss May Hurt Yank Economy

Stock Traders Unable To Determine Effect
Of Hassle in Paris

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The new bitterness between the United States and the Soviet Union could affect the American economy both in its domestic business and in its foreign trade. And businessmen today are trying to pinpoint what the effects will be.

Stock traders are having trouble deciding just what the Paris blow-up will do to American spending for defense—or, specifically, just which companies might get larger government orders or supply those that do.

Exporters and importers have been watching closely the increase in trade between the United States and the Iron Curtain countries that followed some lowering of barriers by both sides.

The trade—while still but a small part of our total foreign commerce—gained notably in the first three months of this year.
The barriers, however, could go up quickly again.

And the Communist nations have been giving Americans and others increased competition in various segments of world trade.

An example is the steadily increasing flow of oil and its products from behind the Iron Curtain and help given some underdeveloped nations in building their own oil refineries—presumably to use Soviet oil.

Such Soviet aid to Ethiopia led to the curtailment or withdrawal of American oil business there.

Soviets can undersell American oil companies at will, because the Communist can set prices—even at a loss—to suit propaganda or foreign policy aims. American companies have to charge enough to break even and a little more, or the stockholders complain.

Tourist agencies, steamship lines and airlines are also watching developments. Tourist trade has spurted, with large numbers of Americans scheduled to visit the Soviet Union this summer. An Associated Press spot check shows few cancellations so far, but considerable uneasiness about what trend the relations between the two countries may take.

The eventual effect on American defense spending will be the biggest item, if changes are triggered by the President's experience in Paris. But this decision is linked both with domestic politics and international obligations.

The small but growing trade with the Communists is a more immediate concern.
The U.S. Department of Commerce reports that in the first three months of this year Washington granted licenses for 35½ million dollars worth of American goods to go to Communist Europe.

This year's export figures compares with 6½ million dollars in the first quarter of 1959, and with 30½ million in the final three months of last year.

New Idle Claims Increase in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Another increase in new claims, but a drop in continuing claims of those unemployed one week or more, are noted by the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation for the week ended May 14.

New claims for the week totaled 15,293, up from 14,727 in the week ended May 7, and compared with 13,148 in the week ended April 30.
The average weekly number of new claims filed in May of last year was 7,466.

Continuing claims fell from 97, 419 to 94,265. The average number of continuing claims on file weekly in May of last year was 54,859.

Sesquicentennial... A Look at the Past

A hand-embroidered quilt made by members of the Circleville Business and Professional Women's Club in 1927 is one of the interesting articles to be on display during June at the Sesquicentennial Exhibit of Pickaway County Arts and Crafts at 104 E. Main St.

The quilt, embroidered in the club colors of blue and yellow, is designed in 12-inch squares, each with a 4-inch center from which radiate some thirty spokes, bearing twenty-five or thirty names.

There are 1176 names, all facsimiles of signatures.

One special square is made of a drawing of Memorial Hall by Miss Mary Wilder, with the signatures of the librarians and friends of
of the Public Library.

A handkerchief which was designed for the Whig adherents of Benjamin Harrison in the Presidential campaign of 1888 has been loaned by Mrs. J. B. Work. Mrs. Work has also loaned a beautiful wedding dress, worn many years ago by a missionary in India.

Do you have a quilt or coverlet, a piece of treasured embroidery, a family portrait, or some household article used by your grandmother in her home? If you do, please share it with your neighbors as part of this exhibit.

CALL EITHER GR 4-3363 or GR 4-4920 to arrange to have it picked up at your home. All articles will be insured at the owner's valuation, and will be displayed either in glass cases or protected by plastic covers. Hostesses will be on hand whenever the exhibit is open to the public.

Opening of the exhibit, first scheduled for this week, has had to be postponed until June 1, in order to arrange for lighting and display.
It will be open on Fridays from 2 to 5 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m. on Saturdays from 9 a. m. to noon, and Sundays from 2 to 5 p. m.
There will be no admission charge.

At a recent meeting of the Pumpkin Show Committee, arrangements were made for the Sesquicentennial Parade to be held on Saturday night of Pumpkin Show. Special program items throughout the entire week will be scheduled by James Shea, program director, working with Robert Adkins and Walden Reichelderfer of the Ses-quicentennial Program Committee.

Teen-Agers Find Will Puts Curb on Travel

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—The will of Bessie Imbeau, filed for probate Wednesday made two provisions for her three teen-aged step grandchildren.

$30,000 in a trust fund plus one third interest each in 200 acres of lead mining land.

The second provision specified that Harvey Imbeau, 19, Ralph Imbeau, 16, and James Imbeau, 13, couldn't spend any of the money for an automobile.

B&O-C&O Merger Plan Moves Ahead

BALTIMORE (AP)—Two of the Baltimore & Ohio and the Chesapeake & Ohio, have made their first move toward merging.

Boards of directors of both lines have approved a proposed stock exchange. It must still be concurred in by stockholders of both firms and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

A joint announcement from President Howard E. Simpson of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co. and President Walter J. Tuohy of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co. was made in Baltimore last night after a meeting of the B&O board in New York.

Terming it "the first step toward a merger of the two properties," the announcement said the proposal was for "an exchange of shares of Chesapeake and Ohio common stock to all holders of Baltimore and Ohio preferred and common stock on the following basis:

"One Chesapeake and Ohio share for each one share of Baltimore and Ohio preferred; one Chesapeake and Ohio share for each one and three-quarters shares of Baltimore and Ohio common."

The B&O, the nation's oldest railroad, has headquarters in Baltimore. The C&O, with headquarters in Cleveland, is the largest coal-carrier in the country.

Federal Drug Official under Increased Fire

WASHINGTON (AP)—The gov-nation of a federal drug official who reportedly received more than a quarter of a million dollars from outside activities involving firms his office polices.

Senators heard testimony
Wednesday that the $287,242.40 received by Dr. Henry Welch since 1953 came primarily from the sale of reprints of scientific articles used to advertise and promote drug products.

Welch, head of the Food and Drug Administration's antibiotics division, had told his superiors that he was receiving an "honorarium" for the outside work—without saying how much money he got.

Johnson Announcement Is Expected Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination will swing into high gear with the opening here probably next week of a "Citizens for Johnson" headquarters.

Shortly thereafter, the Texas senator is expected to make a formal announcement of his candidacy. That may come shortly after the last of the state presidential primaries early in June.

Welch's outside work, Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming asked for Welch's resignation.

Flemming said Welch had deliberately misled his superiors "in receiving compensation far beyond what is the commonly accepted concept of an honorarium."

Welch, reported suffering from a heart ailment, earlier had applied for disability retirement effective June 1. He was paid $17-500 annually in his government job.

Welch did not attend Wednesday's hearing and was not immediately available for comment.

Senate investigators have been looking into drug pricing practices.

Federal Drug Official under Increased Fire

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has demanded the resignation of a federal drug official who reportedly received more than a quarter of a million dollars from outside activities involving firms his office polices.

Senators heard testimony Wednesday that the $287,242.40 received by Dr. Henry Welch since 1953 came primarily from the sale of reprints of scientific articles used to advertise and promote drug products.

Welch, head of the Food and Drug Administration's antibiotics division, had told his superiors that he was receiving an "honorarium" for the outside work — without saying how much money he got.

Within hours after the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee heard its staff investigators present a financial accounting of

Johnson Announcement Is Expected Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination will swing into high gear with the opening here probably next week of a "Citizens for Johnson" headquarters.

Shortly thereafter, the Texas senator is expected to make a formal announcement of his candidacy. That may come shortly after the last of the state presidential primaries early in June.

Welch's outside work, Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming asked for Welch's resignation.

Flemming said Welch had deliberately misled his superiors "in receiving compensation far beyond what is the commonly accepted concept of an honorarium."

Welch, reported suffering from a heart ailment, earlier had applied for disability retirement effective June 1. He was paid $17,500 annually in his government job.

Welch did not attend Wednesday's hearing and was not immediately available for comment.

WEEKDAY DINNER
Meat Cakes
New Potatoes with Dill
Snap Beans Bread Tray
Fruit Turnovers Beverage
QUICK POLISH BEET SOUP

Ingredients: 1 can (13 ounces) onion soup, 3 beef bouillon cubes, 3 cups water, 1 can (1 pound) julienne beets, 1 medium-sized carrot (pared and grated medium-fine), 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon white pepper, 1 whole clove, 2 small bay leaves, 2 pinches thyme, 1 or 2 large cloves garlic (crushed), 2 tablespoons light brown sugar, 1 tablespoon cider vinegar, red food coloring, sour cream or sour cream substitute.

Method: In a saucepan (about 2 quarts) put onion soup, bouillon cubes, water, beets (including liquid in can), carrot, salt, pepper, clove, bay leaf, thyme and garlic. Heat very slowly to allow flavors to develop—about 25 minutes—but do not boil. Remove bay leaves. Stir in brown sugar and vinegar and simmer about 5 minutes. Add a little red food coloring. Top with sour cream as soup is served. Makes almost 1 1/2 quarts. Note: Make soup several hours before serving, or refrigerate overnight, to allow flavors maximum blending—then reheat.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Pregnant Mom Told To Dance

DEAR ABBY: My son graduates from high school this June and it is the custom here for mothers to dance the first dance at the Senior Prom with their sons.

He attends quite a large boys' school and the prom will be a big affair. My problem is that I will be five months pregnant at the time of the prom and I'm afraid I would be out of place on the dance floor. I explained it to my son, but he said he would be proud to dance with me regardless.

Abby, although I am past 40 I am not ashamed of my condition, but I hesitate to do anything that might be in bad taste or would embarrass my son. And I certainly don't want to cause any unfavorable comment. I would appreciate your advice.

ON THE FENCE

DEAR MOTHER: If your son wants to dance with his Mom at the prom, then dance she should. The "comment" should all be favorable. No one could criticize a pregnant mother who is a good sport, and a proud son who is unabashed.

DEAR ABBY: Have you among your readers anyone who understands animals well enough to figure this out? I have given up. I am engaged to a man (he is a widower and I am a widow, both in our late 30's). I am not superstitious or anything like that, but when Carl comes into a room where there is an animal, the animal reacts in the strangest way.

My sister's puppy, who is over-friendly to all strangers, took one sniff of Carl, laid back his ears, put his tail between his legs and slunk off. My own cat was horrified when Carl came near her. Her hair actually stood on end!

Carl admits he doesn't especially care for animals, but the way animals hate him is frightening. Do you suppose the animals know something we don't know? FRIGHTENED

DEAR FRIGHTENED: When a person does not "especially care for animals" the animals sense it, and the feeling becomes mutual. I doubt if there is any more to it.

DEAR ABBY: The letter from "Curious", who wanted to know what the churches did with all their money, reminded me of this story:

Only two weeks after the wedding, the bridegroom called on the preacher who had married him. "I want you to 'unmarry me'!" "She is the most extravagant woman in the world. Why, every time I turn around she asks me for more money."

"What is she doing with all the money?" asked the preacher. "I don't know," replied the dissatisfied bridegroom. "I haven't given her any yet."

If Curious was curious enough, he'd attend church for a while and he'd find out what the church does with all its money.

R. E. W. (One Who Knows)

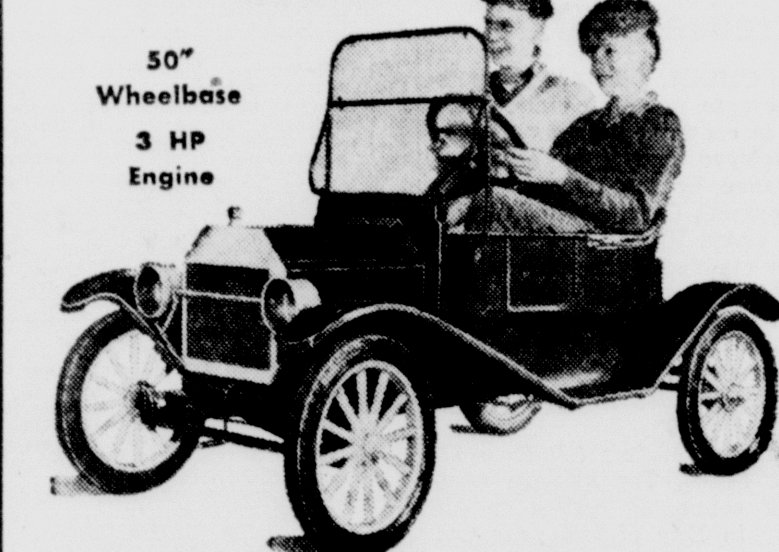

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope from that woman," he demanded.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Pregnant Mom Told To Dance

DEAR ABBY: My son graduating from high school this June and it is the custom here for mothers to dance the first dance at the Senior Prom with their sons.

He attends quite a large boys' school and the prom will be a big affair. My problem is that I will be five months pregnant at the time of the prom and I'm afraid I would be out of place on the dance floor. I explained it to my son, but he said he would be proud to dance with me regardless.

Abby, although I am past 40 I am not ashamed of my condition, but I hesitate to do anything that might be in bad taste or would embarrass my son. And I certainly don't want to cause any unfavorable comment. I would appreciate your advice.

DEAR MOTHER: If your son wants to dance with his Mom at the prom, then dance she should. The "comment" should all be favorable. No one could criticize a pregnant mother who is a good sport, and a proud son who is unabashed.

DEAR ABBY: Have you among your readers anyone who understands animals well enough to figure this out? I have given up. I am engaged to a man (he is a widower and I am a widow, both in our late 30's). I am not superstitious or anything like that, but when Carl comes into a room where there is an animal, the animal reacts in the strangest way.

My sister's puppy, who is over-friendly to all strangers, took one sniff of Carl, laid back his ears, put his tail between his legs and slunk off. My own cat was horrified when Carl came near her. Her hair actually stood on end!

Carl admits he doesn't especially care for animals, but the way animals hate him is frightening. Do you suppose the animals know something we don't know?

DEAR FRIGHTENED: When a person does not "especially care for animals" the animals sense it, and the feeling becomes mutual. I doubt if there is any more to it.

DEAR ABBY: The letter from "Curious", who wanted to know what the churches did with all their money, reminded me of this story:

New Liquor Hiring Rule Under Fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The right of the Liquor Control Department to set up new job requirements for enforcement agents was challenged today by attorneys representing some of the agents who might be replaced.

In a public hearing conducted by State Personnel Director James T. Welsh, Liquor Director Richard C. Crouch again called for a new classification of agent, who would be trained in and operate with techniques similar to those used by the FBI.

Crouch pointed out that the Board of Liquor Control recently has criticized the accuracy and caliber of evidence presented by enforcement agents.

Liquor law cases are becoming increasingly technical, he said, adding:

"This was not true 25 years ago when the liquor control act first was enacted, because of the absence of judicial interpretation of the various sections of the act. At that time, the problems of the Liquor Department dealt with illegal stills and a knowledge of woodsmanship was more important to an enforcement officer than was a knowledge of the laws."

Now, Crouch declared, Ohio needs enforcement agents who are college-trained, preferably with law degrees, and who will be respected by local authorities.

However, attorneys for some of the approximately 75 agents who may be replaced argued that any such change in classification should originate in the Legislature.

Freak Accident Costs Cincinnati's Life

CINCINNATI (AP) — A freak accident cost the life of Mrs. Katherine E. Wagner, 66, Thursday night. Mrs. Wagner's clothing became caught in the doorway of an automobile from which she had just alighted and she was pulled under the wheels as it rolled backward down a driveway.

with Worthy Master Ralph Dunkel presiding, contributions were made to "An Appeal for Aid" to a granger in Gallia County, also to the Pickaway County 4-H clubs, to be used toward Junior awards.

The Grange will serve the alumni banquet at Walnut school on May 28, and will help with the stock sale dinner June 1. Refreshments were served by the May hospitality committee. The 4-H clubs will present the program at the next meeting June 7.

NEBRASKA and Scioto Valley Granges joined in their observance of "Rural Life Sunday" at Hedges Chapel Sunday evening. This was preceded by a bountiful carry-in dinner. The lecturers, Mrs. Wayne Hines and Miss Gladys Vause presented the program which opened with group singing "This is My Father's World."

Ralph Dunkel, Master of Nebraska Grange gave the welcome. This was followed by Rural Life Devotions, led by Gladys Vause, and assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fisher, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Fosnaugh. Patty Collins played a clarinet solo, accompanied by Mary Jo Gaskalla.

Harold Bumgarner, Master of Scioto Valley Grange, read a poem "My Farm To Me Is?" Susan Hoffines played a clarinet solo, and was accompanied by Henrietta Marburger.

The highlight of the evening was a talk by the Rev. Virgil Close, on "Stewardship of the Soil." This was followed by a film, "The Earth Is The Lord's" which closed with Mrs. Ralph Dunkel singing "My God and I" and benediction by the Rev. Close.

Soviet Space Ship's Orbit Is Altered

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union's space ship satellite was late arriving over Britain today, inducing speculation that the cabin said to contain a dummy astronaut may have been ejected.

Scientists manning the Jodrell Bank radio telescope said the 4-ton satellite had swung out to a wider orbit. It was circling the earth in about 94 minutes instead of the previous 91.2 minutes.

This raised these two possibilities, scientists said:

Either the Soviets had ordered the satellite by radio into its new orbit or the spaceship had split away from the sealed cabin.

Similar findings were reported by the government industrial and scientific research station, which reported the satellite about 15 minutes late on a previous orbit.

Soviet scientists reported soon after the space ship was launched last Sunday that the astronaut cabin would be ejected as soon as sufficient data had been transmitted on the traveling conditions a human passenger would experience.

Twenty-two members of the Methodist Church Couples Club met Sunday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Fenstermaker at 6:30 p. m. for a pot-luck supper.

The topic for the evening was "Methodist Organization and Heritage" lead by the Rev. William McOmber. A discussion followed.

Those present were the Rev. and Mrs. McOmber, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Roebuck of Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sykes; Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Bowser; Mr. and Mrs. Ellwyn Hulse; Mr. and Mrs. Don McDill; Mr. and Mrs. Cooke Metzger; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gahn; Mr. and Mrs. George Hamman and Mr. and Mrs. William Easterday, all of Williamsport.

The June meeting will include members of the MYF (Youth Fellowship). Hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Ellwyn Hulse. Mr. and Mrs. William Easterday will be in charge of the program.

Members of the Williamsport WSCS who attended the all-day Officers Training School, Thursday, in Mt. Sterling were Mrs. Marie Gibson, Mrs. Russell Wardell, Mrs. Beatrice Anderson, Mrs. William McOmber, Mrs. Jack

Brayshaw, Mrs. Robert Barnes, Mrs. Harry Stonerock, Mrs. Milton Tootle and Mrs. Ted Corcoran.

THE MAY meeting of the Sorosis Club was held Monday at the home of Mrs. Warren Wright with approximately 35 members and guests present.

Mrs. Paul Whitesed, president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Esta Tipton, secretary, called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting.

Mrs. Gerald Reynolds gave the treasurer's report. The girls of the graduating class of Williamsport High School were guests of the Club. Those present were Misses Linda Hosler, Joanna Hunsinger and Connie Stonerock.

The program consisted of Betty Newton of the gas company. She related on the essentials in every kitchen and commented on the best types. Slides were shown of model kitchen and she illustrated some of the new equipment being manufactured to aid the homemaker in the kitchen. The popular trend is to have the utility room with or near-by the kitchen.

A dessert course followed the program with Mrs. Eugene Schleich, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Gertrude Schleich, Mrs. Ted Corcoran, Mrs. Joe Wright, Mrs. Howard Stauffer, Mrs. Harold Mace, Mrs. Keith Bidwell, Mrs. Belva Forquer and Mrs. Wendall Tar-bille.

Final plans have been made concerning the Children's Day program of the Methodist Church Sunday. The theme is "We Are His People."

Mrs. Ellwyn Hulse is teacher of the Nursery Class (children under four years of age); Mrs. Warren Straley is teacher of the Kindergarten Class (pre-schoolers ages four, five and six); Mrs. Robert Barnes teaches the Primary I

Class (first and second graders); Primary II Boys teacher is Mr. William Schleich.

They are planning a Choral Reading; Mrs. Beatrice Anderson teaches the Primary II Girls. They will give a skit "Your Church, Our Church and Mine".

Mr. Sharp teaches the Intermediate Class. They will give a Musical Selection and four of the boys will be ushers. The Junior Department Boys teacher is Mr. Virgil Anderson and the Junior Girls, William Easterday. Together they will do a Dramatization entitled "The Nacnud Tribe".

The Junior Choir composed of 40 children will sing "Father, Hear

Our Prayer" and "Hand in Hand With God". Others taking part in the program will be Sunday School Superintendent, Robert Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. James Sykes, and the Rev. William McOmber. Miss Linda Sharpe will be the organist.

Zanesville Man, 70, Is Killed by Plunge

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Willy H. Redman, 70, was killed Thursday when he fell from the roof of a house here. His head struck a concrete porch.

Redman had been putting slats on the roof when he apparently slipped. Officials ruled the death accidental.

Soviet Space Ship's Orbit Is Altered

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union's space ship satellite was late arriving over Britain today, inducing speculation that the cabin said to contain a dummy astronaut may have been ejected.

Scientists manning the Jodrell Bank radio telescope said the 4-ton satellite had swung out to a wider orbit. It was circling the earth in about 94 minutes instead of the previous 91.2 minutes.

This raised the two possibilities, scientists said:

Either the Soviets had ordered the satellite by radio into its new orbit or the spaceship had split away from the sealed cabin.

Such a decrease in the satellite's burden would automatically make it veer out farther from the earth, scientists said.

Similar findings were reported by the government industrial and scientific research station, which reported the satellite about 15 minutes late on a previous orbit.

Soviet scientists reported soon after the space ship was launched last Sunday that the astronaut cabin would be ejected as soon as sufficient data had been transmitted on the traveling conditions a human passenger would experience.

Williamsport News

By Mrs. Donald McDill YU 6-3612

Twenty-two members of the Methodist Church Couples Club met Sunday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Fenstermaker at 6:30 p. m. for a pot-luck supper.

The topic for the evening was "Methodist Organization and Heritage" lead by the Rev. William McOmber. A discussion followed.

Those present were the Rev. and Mrs. McOmber, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Roebuck of Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sykes; Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Bowser; Mr. and Mrs. Ellwyn Hulise; Mr. and Mrs. Don McDill; Mr. and Mrs. Cooke Metzger; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gahn; Mr. and Mrs. George Hamman and Mr. and Mrs. William Easterday, all of Williamsport.

The June meeting will include members of the MYF (Youth Fellowship). Hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Ellwyn Hulise. Mr. and Mrs. William Easterday will be in charge of the program.

Members of the Williamsport WSCS who attended the all-day Officers Training School, Thursday, in Mt. Sterling, were Mrs. Marie Gibson, Mrs. Russell Wardell, Mrs. Beatrice Anderson, Mrs. William McOmber, Mrs. Jack

Brayshaw, Mrs. Robert Barnes, Mrs. Harry Stonerock, Mrs. Milton Tootle and Mrs. Ted Corcoran.

THE MAY meeting of the Sorosis Club was held Monday at the home of Mrs. Warren Wright with approximately 35 members and guests present.

Mrs. Paul Whiteside, president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. Estia Tipton, secretary, called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting.

Mrs. Gerald Reynolds gave the treasurer's report. The girls of the graduating class of Williamsport High School were guests of the Club. Those present were Misses Linda Hosler, Joanna Hunsinger and Connie Stonerock.

The program consisted of Betty Newton of the gas company. She related on the essentials in every kitchen and commented on the best types. Slides were shown of modern kitchen and she illustrated some of the new equipment being manufactured to aid the homemaker in the kitchen. The popular trend is to have the utility room with or near-by the kitchen.

A dessert course followed the program with Mrs. Eugene Schleich, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Gertrude Schleich, Mrs. Ted Corcoran, Mrs. Joe Wright, Mrs. Howard Stauffer, Mrs. Harold Mace, Mrs. Keith Bidwell, Mrs. Belva Forquer and Mrs. Wendall Tarbille.

The June meeting will be held at the parish house. A program planned around "Music of Olden Days" is scheduled.

Final plans have been made concerning the Children's Day program of the Methodist Church Sunday. The theme is "We Are His People."

Mrs. Ellwyn Hulise is teacher of the Nursery Class (children under four years of age); Mrs. Warren Strailey is teacher of the Kindergarten Class (pre-schoolers ages four, five and six); Mrs. Robert Barnes teaches the Primary I

Class (first and second graders); Primary II Boys teacher is Mr. William Schleich.

They are planning a Choral Reading; Mrs. Beatrice Anderson teaches the Primary II Girls. They will give a skit "Your Church, Our Church and Mine."

Mr. Sharp teaches the Intermediate Class. They will give a Musical Selection and four of the boys will be ushers. The Junior Department Boys teacher is Mr. Virgil Anderson and the Junior Girls, William Easterday. Together they will do a Dramatization entitled "The Nacmad Tribe".

The Junior Choir composed of 40 children will sing "Father, Hear

Our Prayer" and "Hand in Hand With God". Others taking part in the program will be Sunday School Superintendent, Robert Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. James Sykes, and the Rev. William McOmber. Miss Linda Sharpe will be the organist.

Zanesville Man, 70, Is Killed by Plunge

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Willy H. Redman, 70, was killed Thursday when he fell from the roof of a house here. His head struck a concrete porch.

Redman had been putting slate on the roof when he apparently slipped. Officials ruled the death accidental.

Presbyterians Tap Georgian As Moderator

CLEVELAND (AP) — The new moderator of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. is Dr. Herman Lee Turner. The Atlanta, Ga., pastor is classed as an outspoken integrationist.

He won election Wednesday by two votes over Dr. Elder G. Hawkins, a New York Negro. The vote was 471-469.

Dr. Turner today appointed Dr. Hawkins as vice moderator. He is the first Negro to serve in that high a position in the church.

More than 1,000 delegates and visitors stood in brief silent prayer at a morning session, a service held "in behalf of peace."

Dr. Turner told the 172nd General Assembly of the three-million-member church that his election over Dr. Hawkins was not a victory of the South over the North. Rather, he said, it was a "tribute to the ministers and churches where we have endeavored to give a positive witness to one of the most vexing problems of this generation."

The church leader gained wide renown as the author of the "Atlanta Manifesto," a document that condemned racial hatred and made a plea for maintenance of a sound public school system in the South. First issued in 1957, the Manifesto was signed by 20 ministers. A year later a second statement was issued and signed by 312 ministers and rabbis.

Army Holds Stiff Ice Box Tests

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Army is conducting cold chamber tests more rigorous than those faced by Arctic explorers in efforts to determine how much exposure a man can take, how many men can endure it and what food is most conducive to pulling through.

The project was disclosed Wednesday. The tests are being made at Lankenau Hospital's new research center.

Usually two men, between 20 and 30, are placed in a cold chamber at a time, clad only in shorts. They stay there for 10 days without a break — if they can. The temperature is 42 to 45 degrees above zero.

Details Given On Soviet Spy Effort Here

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The case of a Soviet employee of the United Nations secretariat, caught spying at the time of Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the U.S. last year, was handled efficiently and without an international uproar, says Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The revelation of the Soviet spy case enlivened the wind-up of the vice president's upstate New York tour. It took Nixon almost the entire day, in fact, to fill in the details of the incident, which ended last January with the expulsion of the Soviet U.N. employee. He was identified at U.N. headquarters as Vadim A. Kirilyuk, a former political affairs officer in the territorial research and analysis section of the trusteeship division.

At first Nixon said that two members of the Soviet U.N. delegation had been caught spying in Illinois at the very time Khrushchev was addressing the U.N. In New York. Later, an aide said Nixon meant to say the incident was in Springfield, Mass.

Then Nixon confirmed that the pair actually had not been arrested. Later, at a news conference, he said one, a U.N. secretariat employee, had been sent home after an investigation by Dag Hammarskjold, U.N. secretary-general.

Another had not been directly involved and is still in this country, said Nixon. An American from whom the pair sought highly classified information at Springfield is in the clear, the vice president said.

native art was underscored this week during Kelly's whirlwind visit to these shores. The actor-hoofers-director flew 12,000 miles for one morning's work in a movie. He made a guest appearance in "Let's Make Love," teaching Yves Montand how to dance.

To do so, Kelly took a three-day interruption in his teaching French ballet artists how to dance — jazz style. He has been commissioned by the Paris opera to create the Gershwin ballet, and the old place may never be the same.

"I dreamed up a plot in which Aphrodite comes down to earth and falls for a musclemann, then Zeus comes down to talk her out of it," related Kelly. "The whole thing is pretty wild."

"The French dancers are great, but they've been schooled in the classical ballet and don't dig jazz."

The Kelly creation will premiere June 20, and he admitted that anything might happen: riots or cheers. He's having a ball, but regrets that the same sort of thing can scarcely be done in this country.

"The Paris opera is state-supported, of course," he said. "There is a constant supply of talent from the ballet school which the opera runs."

"We subsidize wheat and pigs and oil fields and everything else," Kelly argued, "but we won't spend a dime for art."

He has long been hot on this issue, declaring that we are behind all other major countries in developing our own culture.

Errors Are Costly To Tiger Effort

Circleville, plagued with costly errors, dropped a 7-2 baseball contest to visiting Washington C. H. yesterday.

CHS outslugged the visitors, 10-5, but couldn't beat that old nemesis of bobbling the ball. Most of the errors allowed Washington to tally or put men in position to score.

In all the Tigers committed seven miscues to spoil their solid exhibition of hitting. Ten hits included doubles by Danny Leonhardt and Jim Wellington.

Pitcher Sam Weller went the distance for Circleville, scattering five hits, walking four and fanning seven. Burris, a freshman left hander, hurled six innings for WCH to record the win. He was relieved in the seventh by Don Jullerat.

BURRIS whiffed five and walked one. Jullerat walked one and whiffed two.

Washington scored three times in the first inning on two hits, a walk and an error. Circleville picked up one run in the first on a walk to Harry Strawser and a double by Leonhardt.

The visitors pushed another run across in the third on a walk and two errors. They came back for two more in the fourth on two errors, a walk and a hit.

Circleville's second run came in the seventh when Wellington doubled to deep center and Jake Bailey chased him home with a sharp single to center.

Leading hitters for Circleville were Strawser and Leonhardt who smacked two bingles in two trips each to the plate and Wellington who went two-for-four.

POWELL collected two hits in three tries and scored three runs for the Blue Lions.

The loss pushed Circleville's record to five wins and seven defeats. The Tigers have won four and lost five in SCO league play to drop them from championship contention.

League leading Franklin Heights comes here today for a test with the locals. Franklin Heights won the first encounter of the season, 6-0.

Bucs Overcome Thin Pitching By Heavy Hits

Pirates Regain Lead In NL by Whipping Cardinal Crew 8-3

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Pittsburgh Pirates, overcoming thin pitching with their bats, have battled back for a half-game lead in the National League race as they open a three-game series with San Francisco's second place Giants tonight.

The Pirates, lacking a sturdy No. 3 and 4 pitcher behind aces Vern Law and Bob Friend, rapped 13 hits, picked up four unearned runs and whipped St. Louis 8-3 Thursday night. That broke a tie for first with the Giants, who were rained out at Milwaukee.

Cincinnati skipped past Milwaukee into third place, four games back, with a pair of two-out, ninth-inning runs that beat Los Angeles 5-4. Chicago's Cubs defeated Philadelphia 4-2 and jumped over St. Louis into sixth place.

In the American League, Kansas City scored five runs in the eighth and beat Baltimore 7-4. That dropped the second place Orioles a full-game behind Chicago's White Sox, whose game with Boston was rained out. No other games were scheduled.

The Bucs, topping the NL with a .283 batting average, bagged all their runs before the Cards got started. Hal Smith knocked in three, two with a second-inning homer off loser Ray Sadecki, a 19-year-old lefty making his major league debut.

Cincinnati clipped the Dodgers 5-4 for the second night in a row and now has a 4-0 season edge on the world champions. Vada Pinson's triple capped the winning ninth after Elio Chacon got it started with a bunt that stayed fair when Dodger third baseman Jim Gilliam let it roll. Chacon stole second and scored on Eddie Kasko's single. Jim Brosnan (1-0) went it, pairing with Joe Nuxhall for a four-inning, one-hit shutout job in relief of starter Cal McLish.

Loser Sandy Koufax (0-4) went all the way for the Dodgers, blowing a 4-0 lead after piling up eight of his 10 strikeouts in 4 1/3 innings.

The Cubs broke a 2-2 tie at Philadelphia in the seventh when Phil Richie Ashburn tripled and scored on Bob Will's foul fly to rookie right fielder Ken Walters. Bob Anderson (1-1) won it with a five-hitter and his first complete game of the season. Robin Roberts (1-4) lost it.

Broncos Eye Track Finals

Ashville's Bob Hoover, Dale Fout and the Bronco 880 relay team qualified for district class A track finals yesterday at Ohio State University.

The finals are slated Saturday at OSU. Members of the Ashville 880 relay team are Fout, Noggle, McNeil and Hoover.

Hoover qualified in both the low and high hurdles. He cleared the highs in 16.4 and the lows in 21.4.

Fout qualified in the 220 dash. Field events are slated to start at 9:30 a. m. Saturday at OSU. Other Broncos slated to participate in these events are Hoover, Jim Brown, Bill Cromley and Jim McNeil.

A and C Shifts Post Victories

"C" Shift and "A" Shift posted victories last night in the opening of the local DuPont plant's softball league Ted Lewis Park.

"C" Shift edged Day Shift, 16-14, as Dick Weaver was the winning hurler. "A" Shift went eight innings before downing "D" Shift, 9-8, with Fred Redman as the winning pitcher.

Next action takes place at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday when "A" Shift meets "C" Shift.

Babe Ruth Teams Are Announced

Team rosters for Babe Ruth League baseball play at Ted Lewis Park this summer were set this week by team managers.

Team managers met at the home of Mike Harrison, local Little League president and player agent, to bid for players.

Present plans call for five teams to compete this season. They include Kiwanis, General Electric and DuPont, the same squads which vied last year.

A new team will be formed here

SPORTS BRIEFS

Pitcher Don Erickson of the Buffalo Bisons seems to have found prosperity after being on relief this year for all but the past five days of the International League season.

Erickson turned in his second complete game victory in as many starts Thursday night, beating Rochester 3-1. The right-hander has allowed only three runs and 11 hits in 18 innings as a starter. His record has jumped from 3-3 to 5-3.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A record give-game home attendance is expected at this fall's Ohio State football games. This is one of those years the Buckeyes have only five, instead of six, home games.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jim Grant will make his first start of the season tonight when the Cleveland Indians open a two-game series with the Boston Red Sox. Appearing in four games in relief, he has an 0-1 record.

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—The Mid-American Conference starts its annual three-sport spring carnival today, with championship trophies waiting for the top teams in golf, tennis and track and field.

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—With Indiana changing its stand, the Big Ten is expected to muster the required votes today to certify Rose Bowl football participation on an individual school basis.

A recommendation by athletic directors to place Rose Bowl proceeds on a share basis should be a member school be invited to compete in the New Year's Day classic at Pasadena will be put to a vote of directors and faculty representatives.

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Gold Nugget reeled off the fastest mile of Lebanon Raceway's harness race meeting Thursday night as he won the featured Class C-2 pace in 2:04 4/5.

CHICAGO (AP)—Sluggish Bob Cerv will be in the New York Yankee lineup for the first time in four years when the Bombers meet the Chicago White Sox tonight.

Cerv was re-acquired by the Yankees Thursday in a trade which sent third baseman Andy Carey to Kansas City. Originally, the hard-hitting outfielder was sold by the Yankees to Kansas City after the 1956 season.

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians had "a very profitable year" in 1959 after a loss in 1958, reports William R. Daley, chairman of the baseball club's board and major stockholder.

this year, but a sponsor has not yet been officially named. The fifth team will be a squad from Commercial Point, sponsored by the Commercial Point Men's Community Club.

GENERAL Electric won the league championship last season, with Kiwanis and DuPont finishing second and third.

League managers and Harrison were of the opinion that this year's loop would benefit by the addition of two teams.

Many promising players, most of them graduates from last season's Little League teams, will compete for berths on Babe Ruth teams this year.

Most Babe Ruth players returning from last year will remain with the same team they played with last season.

Here are the rosters with the names of managers and their telephone numbers:

DUPONT — Bill Blanton, 140 Reber Ave., GR 4-2608; Howard Fletcher, Reber Ave., GR 4-2608; Gerald Dady, Griffe, George Heiser, Gary Lagore, Tom Copeland, Eddie Evans, Skip Lutz, Arnie Gabriel, Eddie Smith, Bill Smith and Chet Terry.

KIWANIS — Ronnie Easter, 143 Greener Ave., GR 4-2608; Fred Moore, George Grigg, Dick McKenzie, Wendell Lovett, Dave Caudill, Mike Wilson, John Tootle, Joe Callahan, Howard Dade, Dave Green, Charles Smith, Jack Martin, Bill Mike Spangler and Ronnie Easter.

GENERAL ELECTRIC — Paul Smallwood, 215 W. Mill St., GR 4-2787; Grand, George Grigg, Ray Grant, Fred Moore, David Bass, Larry Adams, Jim Wood, Paul Purcell, Mick Tomlinson, Charles Griffe, John Jeffries, Tom Strous and Roger Roebuck.

Roster for the Commercial Point team will be announced later.

Minor League Manager List Completed

Circleville Little League officials today announced completion of the managers for its minor league teams.

Circleville Rotary Club will be managed by Charles H. Walters, Route 4, GR 4-2693, and William McGinnis Jr., 838 Atwater Ave., GR 4-6102.

Circleville Oil will be managed by Lee Flickinger, 464 N. Court St., and Melvin Thompson, E. Union St., GR 4-2184.

Rosters of all minor league teams will be distributed to managers today and practices will start immediately. Tentative plans call for starting the leagues on June 6.

Hogan's Protege Leads in Tourney

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP) — Ben Hogan once wondered why his protege, Gardner Dickinson, wasn't winning more golf tournaments.

"I told him in one word — putting," Dickinson said. "It's the worst part of my game."

"I putted just wonderfully," he said Thursday after his 65 gave him the first round lead in the 13th annual Sam Snead Golf Festival.

The remarkably steady 18 holes in which he carded five birdies and 13 pars put him two strokes ahead of his closest challengers among the 62 pros competing for $10,000 in the 72-hole tourney.

Ashville Nine Tops Jonathan Alder, 11-2

Ashville romped to its 12th victory yesterday by blasting invading Jonathan Alder, 11-2, in Darby Valley League action.

Richard Wilcox posted his ninth win against a lone loss, at allowing three hits. The loss went to Delong who was relieved by Roll.

In going the route, Wilcox fanned nine and walked four. Delong struck out one and issued one free pass. Roll whiffed two and walked one.

JA's Cordial had the only extra base hit, a home run with a man on in the first inning to complete Alder's scoring.

ROBERT Kuhlwein poked two doubles for Ashville as Tom Rathburn and Wilcox each smashed one. Wilcox hit two Alder men with a pitched ball.

The Broncos counted nine hits in all, committing three errors. Alder committed five miscues. The Broncos now are 12-3 overall while JA evened its record at 6-6.

Too Eager

CANTON, Mo. (AP) — A burglar, using a torch, almost succeeded in cutting through the door of an unlocked, empty safe at the Martin Chevrolet Co. before he was surprised by City Marshall Richard Brown.

The burglar escaped by running through a plate glass door.

His torch had cut through a notice, attached to the door of the safe, which states: "This safe is not locked."

Pitcher Don Erickson of the Buffalo Bisons seems to have found prosperity after being on relief this year for all but the past five days of the International League season.

Erickson turned in his second complete game victory in as many starts Thursday night, beating Rochester 3-1. The right-hander has allowed only three runs and 11 hits in 18 innings as a starter. His record has jumped from 3-3 to 5-3.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A record give-game home attendance is expected at this fall's Ohio State football games. This is one of those years the Buckeyes have only five, instead of six, home games.

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—The Mid-American Conference starts its annual three-sport spring carnival today, with championship trophies waiting for the top teams in golf, tennis and track and field.

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—With Indiana changing its stand, the Big Ten is expected to muster the required votes today to certify Rose Bowl football participation on an individual school basis.

A recommendation by athletic directors to place Rose Bowl proceeds on a share basis should a member school be invited to compete in the New Year's Day classic at Pasadena will be put to a vote of directors and faculty representatives.

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Gold Nugget reeled off the fastest mile of Lebanon Raceway's harness race meeting Thursday night as he won the featured Class C-2 pace in 2:04 4-5.

CHICAGO (AP)—Sluggish Bob Cerv will be in the New York Yankee lineup for the first time in four years when the Bombers meet the Chicago White Sox to night.

Cerv was re-acquired by the Yankees Thursday in a trade which sent third baseman Andy Carey to Kansas City. Originally, the hard-hitting outfielder was sold by the Yankees to Kansas City after the 1956 season.

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians had "a very profitable year" in 1959 after a loss in 1958, reports William R. Daley, chairman of the baseball club's board and major stockholder.

Hoover qualified in both the low and high hurdles. He cleared the highs in 16.4 and the lows in 21.4.

Post qualified in the 220 dash. Field events are slated to start at 9:30 a. m. Saturday at OSU. Other Broncos slated to participate in these events are Hoover, Jim Brown, Bill Cromley and Jim McNeil.

A and C Shifts Post Victories

"C" Shift and "A" Shift posted victories last night in the opening of the local DuPont plant's softball league Ted Lewis Park.

"C" Shift edged Day Shift, 16-14, as Dick Weaver was the winning hurler. "A" Shift went eight innings before downing "D" Shift, 9-8, with Fred Redman as the winning pitcher.

Next action takes place at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday when "A" Shift meets "C" Shift.

Bucs Overcome Thin Pitching By Heavy Hits

Pirates Regain Lead
In NL by Whipping
Cardinal Crew 8-3

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Pittsburgh Pirates, overcoming thin pitching with their bats, have battled back for a half-game lead in the National League race as they open a three-game series with San Francisco's second place Giants tonight.

The Pirates, lacking a sturdy No. 3 and 4 pitcher behind ace Vern Law and Bob Friend, rapped 13 hits, picked up four unearned runs and whipped St. Louis 8-3 Thursday night. That broke a tie for first with the Giants, who were rained out at Milwaukee.

Cincinnati skipped past Milwaukee into third place, four games back, with a pair of two-out, ninth-inning runs that beat Los Angeles 5-4. Chicago's Cubs defeated Philadelphia 4-2 and jumped over St. Louis into sixth place.

In the American League, Kansas City scored five runs in the eighth and beat Baltimore 7-4. That dropped the second place Orioles a full game behind Chicago's White Sox, whose game with Boston was rained out. No other games were scheduled.

The Bucs, topping the NL with a .283 batting average, bagged all their runs before the Cards got started. Hal Smith knocked in three, two with a second-inning homer off loser Ray Sadecki, a 19-year-old lefty making his major league debut.

Cincinnati clipped the Dodgers 5-4 for the second night in a row and now has a 4-0 season edge on the world champions. Vada Pinson's triple capped the winning ninth after Elio Chacon got it started with a bunt that stayed fair when Dodger third baseman Jim Gilliam let it roll. Chacon stole second and scored on Eddie Kasko's single. Jim Brosnan (1-0) won it, pairing with Joe Nuxhall for a four-inning, one-hit shutout job in relief of starter Cal McLish.

Loser Sandy Koufax (0-4) went all the way for the Dodgers, blowing a 4-0 lead after piling up eight of his 10 strikeouts in 4 1-3 innings.

The Cubs broke a 2-2 tie at Philadelphia in the seventh when ex-Phil Richie Ashburn tripled and scored on Bob Will's foul fly to rookie right fielder Ken Walters. Bob Anderson (1-1) won it with a five-hitter and his first complete game of the season, Robin Roberts (1-4) lost it.

Broncos Eye Track Finals

Ashville's Bob Hoover, Dale Fout and the Bronco 880 relay team qualified for district class A track finals yesterday at Ohio State University.

The finals are slated Saturday at OSU. Members of the Ashville 880 relay team are Fout, Noggle, McNeil and Hoover.

Hoover qualified in both the low and high hurdles. He cleared the highs in 16.4 and the lows in 21.4.

Field events are slated to start at 9:30 a. m. Saturday at OSU. Other Broncos slated to participate in these events are Hoover, Jim Brown, Bill Cromley and Jim McNeil.

Babe Ruth Teams Are Announced

Team rosters for Babe Ruth League baseball play at Ted Lewis Park this summer were set this week by team managers.

Team managers met at the home of Mike Harrison, local Little League president and player agent, to bid for players.

Present plans call for five teams to compete this season. They include Kiwanis, General Electric and DuPont, the same squads which vied last year.

A new team will be formed here

'Truth Serum' Decried at Murder Trial

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A defense attorney for Floyd E. Hargrove says he will fight admission of evidence he claims was secured while the 35-year-old truck driver was under the effect of a "truth serum."

Louis A. Turi Jr., one of two attorneys defending Hargrove on first-degree murder charges in the slaying of Charles R. Clark of Mentor, said evidence obtained while Hargrove was under the effect of the drug, sodium amytal, was "illegally and fraudulently obtained."

It was after taking the drug that Hargrove told authorities where to find the rifle they say he used in the Christmas Eve sniper slaying of Clark, a church and civic leader in nearby Mentor.

A .22-caliber rifle was introduced as evidence at Hargrove's trial Thursday. The state claims Hargrove threw the gun into a stream south of Mentor after firing the fatal shot into the kitchen of the Clark home.

"It looks like it. But I couldn't say for sure."

Joseph Tholl, a Cleveland handwriting expert, testified he was certain that handwriting on laundry slips at the dry cleaning company for which Hargrove worked matched the signature on a card at a Chardon store for the purchase of a rifle Dec. 23.

The name on the card was Robert G. McClaren, which the stand contents was an alias used by Hargrove.

Pennsy Rail Aides Return To Their Jobs

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Virtualy all Pennsylvania Railroad maintenance workers were back on the job today after the Transport Workers Union complied with a federal court order.

Walkouts over the nation's largest railroad from New York to St. Louis began Wednesday and spread Thursday, as some 10,000 workers failed to report. But throughout, service remained near normal as supervisory personnel took over.

Michael J. Quill, president of the TWU, ordered the men back to their jobs Thursday after Judge Francis L. Van Dusen of the U.S. District Court of eastern Pennsylvania issued a temporary injunction—upon the request of the railroad—to halt the work stoppages. Van Dusen set a hearing for next Tuesday.

Quill said that because of the federal order "all members of the TWU . . . are required to return to duty and to perform their regular work assignments."

The TWU sent telegrams to all 46 of its local unions in the railroad, advising them to comply with the order.

"We are fighting the injunction and the blackjack tactics of management in the courts," the telegrams said.

The telegrams said the injunction would have no effect on plans to strike the railroad on June 6 in a three-year-old dispute over work rules and job classifications plus a 35-cent-an-hour wage hike the union is seeking for rates that now range from $2.17 to $2.65.

Nationwide Sing Planned On Television

NEW YORK (AP)—Television hopes to produce the biggest chorus in history next Tuesday — a musical show specially designed so the millions of viewers can vocalize with the performers on the home screen.

That is next Tuesday's NBC "Sing Along with Mitch" special (8:30-9:30 p. m. Eastern Daylight Time). The Mitch is Mitch Miller, and the entertainment will be purely musical and partly do-it-yourself.

Meanwhile there's tonight's Jerry Lewis Show on NBC (8:30-9:30).

On Sunday, Ed Sullivan will have Sam Levenson and Nelson Eddy among his guests (CBS, 8-9).

Wilkie Collins' "The Woman in White" is Monday night's special on NBC's Hour of Great Mysteries (10-11), with Siobhan McKenna and Walter Slezak. CBS' Wednesday night Circle Theatre show (10-11) is "Positive Identity," which describes the work of the nation's legal aid societies.

Thursday evening's special treat will be an hour-long concert by the Philadelphia Orchestra, Eugene Ormandy conducting, on CBS (10-11). The niche once occupied by "The Big Party" will be devoted to Bach, Beethoven, Liszt, Wagner and Ravel.

Erv Leist Hears Appeal for More Water Facilities

Ervin F. Leist, manager of public utilities participated in the 80th Annual Conference of the 13,000-member American Water Works Assn., held this week in Bal Harbour, Fla. The conference, attended by engineers, technicians and water utility management men from throughout the world, heard repeated admonitions that demand for water for domestic use will double in the next 20 years.

It was revealed that a considerable number of the continent's water utilities have not improved their facilities despite increased water use in recent years.

Delegates learned that each citizen need pay daily less than the price of a newspaper to assure adequate water when and where it is needed in his community.

Denver has practically no fog. It is 5,280 feet above sea level.

Views on Television - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC and CBS bored this viewer stiff by putting on unedited versions of Nikita Khrushchev's Paris diatribe Wednesday night through the wee hours Thursday.

Meanwhile, small and bright ABC wrapped up the whole thing in 45 minutes, ending neatly at midnight.

Actually, K's press conference was not such an incredibly long affair at all — it consisted of a statement and about 10 questions. What took up the time was the French and then the English translations. But why both NBC and CBS felt it necessary to air these interminable periods is hard to understand.

ABC, which like the other two networks, had the tapes in hand here by 10 p. m., merely chopped out the wearisome translations and then had Nicholas Orloff, a skilled translator, interpret as the Soviet leader went along. His voice, from New York, was heard over the soundtrack of the Paris-made tape.

At NBC, particularly, the commentators seemed absolutely overwhelmed by events. The network, knocking off the Jack Paar show, first put on a special broadcast by John Chancellor, during which he talked to a correspondent in Berlin who was repeating things which had been heard and re-heard on the early evening telecasts. Then it put Frank McGee on — and he repeated everything Chancellor had said immediately before him. Finally he started the tape, which then ran without interruption for two hours and 20 minutes.

Maybe endless late-night non-entertainment shows are the new TV trend. After all it was just Sunday night we had Vice President Richard M. Nixon for almost four hours. It's getting hard to find sleeping time these hectic days, although I did do some napping through both Mr. N. and Mr. K.

Recommended tonight: Jerry Lewis Show, NBC, 8:30-9:30 Eastern Daylight Time.

Ashville High School Baccalaureate for its 45 graduating seniors will be at 8 p. m. Sunday in the Ashville EUB Church.

The Prelude "See the Conquering Hero Comes" by George F. Handel, will be played by the brass quartet with organ accompaniment. The Invocation, delivered by the Rev. John Morgan, will follow the Processional hymn.

The Ten Commandments will be read by Rev. Morgan with response after each commandment chanted by the choir and congregation.

The high school chorus ensemble will sing the anthem "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" by J. S. Bach. Rev. Morgan will read the Scripture Lesson.

'Truth Serum' Decried at Murder Trial

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A defense attorney for Floyd E. Hargrove says he will fight admission of evidence he claims was secured while the 35-year-old truck driver was under the effect of a "truth serum."

Louis A. Turi Jr., one of two attorneys defending Hargrove on first-degree murder charges in the slaying of Charles R. Clark of Mentor, said evidence obtained while Hargrove was under the effect of the drug, sodium amytal, was "illegally and fraudulently obtained."

It was after taking the drug that Hargrove told authorities where to find the rifle they say he used in the Christmas Eve sniper slaying of Clark, a church and civic leader in nearby Mentor.

A .22-caliber rifle was introduced as evidence at Hargrove's trial Thursday. The state claims Hargrove threw the gun into a stream south of Mentor after firing the fatal shot into the kitchen of the Clark home.

Mentor fireman Rollin Scott was unable to identify the gun as the one he fished from the stream Jan. 4. Shown the rifle, Scott testified:

"It looks like it. But I couldn't say for sure."

Joseph Tholl, a Cleveland handwriting expert, testified he was certain that handwriting on laundry slips at the dry cleaning company for which Hargrove worked matched the signature on a card at a Chardon store for the purchase of a rifle Dec. 23.

The name on the card was Robert G. McClaren, which the stand contends was an alias used by Hargrove.

Pennsy Rail Aides Return To Their Jobs

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Virtually all Pennsylvania Railroad maintenance workers were back on the job today after the Transport Workers Union complied with a federal court order.

Walkouts over the nation's largest railroad from New York to St. Louis began Wednesday and spread Thursday, as some 10,000 workers failed to report. But throughout, service remained near normal as supervisory personnel took over.

Michael J. Quill, president of the TWU, ordered the men back to their jobs Thursday after Judge Francis L. Van Dusen of the U.S. District Court of eastern Pennsylvania issued a temporary injunction—upon the request of the railroad—to halt the work stoppages. Van Dusen set a hearing for next Tuesday.

Quill said that because of the federal order "all members of the TWU . . . are required to return to duty and to perform their regular work assignments."

The TWU sent telegrams to all 46 of its local unions in the railroad, advising them to comply with the order.

"We are fighting the injunction and the blackjack tactics of management in the courts," the telegrams said.

The telegrams said the injunction would have no effect on plans to strike the railroad on June 6 in a three-year-old dispute over work rules and job classifications plus a 35-cents-an-hour wage hike the union is seeking for rates that now range from $2.17 to $2.65.

Nationwide Sing Planned On Television

NEW YORK (AP)—Television hopes to produce the biggest chorus in history next Tuesday — a musical show specially designed so the millions of viewers can vocalize with the performers on the home screen.

That is next Tuesday's NBC "Sing Along with Mitch" special (8:30-9:30 p. m. Eastern Daylight Time). The Mitch is Mitch Miller, and the entertainment will be purely musical and partly do-it-yourself.

Meanwhile there's tonight's Jerry Lewis Show on NBC (8:30-9:30).

On Sunday, Ed Sullivan will have Sam Levenson and Nelson Eddy among his guests (CBS, 8:30).

Wilkie Collins' "The Woman in White" is Monday night's special on NBC's Hour of Great Mysteries (10-11), with Siobhan McKenna and Walter Slezak. CBS' Wednesday night Circle Theatre show (10-11) is "Positive Identity," which describes the work of the nation's legal aid societies.

Thursday evening's special treat will be an hour-long concert by the Philadelphia Orchestra, Eugene Ormandy conducting, on CBS (10-11). The niche once occupied by "The Big Party" will be devoted to Bach, Beethoven, Liszt, Wagner and Ravel.

Water Facilities

Ervin F. Leist, manager of public utilities participated in the 80th Annual Conference of the 13,000-member American Water Works Assn., held this week in Bal Harbour, Fla. The conference, attended by engineers, technicians and water utility management men from throughout the world, heard repeated admonitions that demand for water for domestic use will double in the next 20 years.

It was revealed that a considerable number of the continent's water utilities have not improved their facilities despite increased water use in recent years.

Delegates learned that each citizen need pay daily less than the price of a newspaper to assure adequate water when and where it is needed in his community.

Denver has practically no fog. It is 5,280 feet above sea level.

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC and CBS bored this viewer stiff by putting on unedited versions of Nikita Khrushchev's Paris diatribe Wednesday night through the wee hours Thursday.

Meanwhile, small and bright ABC wrapped up the whole thing in 45 minutes, ending neatly at midnight.

Actually, K's press conference was not such an incredibly long affair at all — it consisted of a statement and about 10 questions. What took up the time was the French and then the English translations. But why both NBC and CBS felt it necessary to air these interminable periods is hard to understand.

ABC, which like the other two networks, had the tapes in hand here by 10 p. m., merely chopped out the wearisome translations and then had Nicholas Orloff, a skilled translator, interpret as the Soviet leader went along. His voice, from New York, was heard over the soundtrack of the Paris-made tape.

At NBC, particularly, the commentators seemed absolutely overwhelmed by events. The network, knocking off the Jack Paar show, first put on a special broadcast by John Chancellor, during which he talked to a correspondent in Berlin who was repeating things which had been heard and rehearsed on the early evening telecasts. Then it put Frank McGee on — and he repeated everything Chancellor had said immediately before him. Finally he started the tape, which then ran without interruption for two hours and 20 minutes.

Maybe endless late-night non-entertainment shows are the new TV trend. After all it was just Sunday night we had Vice President Richard M. Nixon for almost four hours. It's getting hard to find sleeping time these hectic days, although I did do some napping through both Mr. N. and Mr. K.

Recommended tonight: Jerry Lewis Show, NBC, 8:30-9:30 Eastern Daylight Time.

Choose your roof for beauty and to PROTECT YOUR INVESTMENT IN YOUR HOME!

Worn roofing . . . or roofing built for less than maximum durability . . . can jeopardize your investment in your home! Such roofings permit wind-driven rains to be forced beneath the shingles. Just water . . . but what damage it can do!

Confined moisture seeps through the roof boards to form hidden leaks. Rot-breeding moisture follows the rafters and works its way down behind the plaster. Eventually water-soaked plaster gives visible warning. But, expensive repairs are required to restore the value of your home.
